

CHURCH ACTIVITIES

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

L. A. Edwards, Pastor.
9:30 Church School. Mr. Packard, Superintendent.
It is very important that all be present for the singing of the hymns at the hour of rehearsing for Children's Day which will be held on June 10th at seven o'clock in the evening.
The parents of young children are requested to communicate with the pastor before that time regarding the baptizing of their children.
11:00 The Morning Service. The pastor will be assisted by the choir. The offertory will be on account of the baccalaureate service to be held in the church in the afternoon.
2:30 Baccalaureate Service. The pastor will be assisted by the choir. The offertory will be on account of the baccalaureate service to be held in the church in the afternoon.
7:30 Evening Service. The pastor will be assisted by the choir. The offertory will be on account of the baccalaureate service to be held in the church in the afternoon.

METHODIST CHURCH

P. J. Clifford, Pastor.
9:45 Sunday School. Mr. Packard, Superintendent.
11:00 Morning Worship. The pastor will be assisted by the choir. The offertory will be on account of the baccalaureate service to be held in the church in the afternoon.
6:30 Epworth League. The pastor will be assisted by the choir. The offertory will be on account of the baccalaureate service to be held in the church in the afternoon.
7:30 Evening Service. The pastor will be assisted by the choir. The offertory will be on account of the baccalaureate service to be held in the church in the afternoon.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday School at 10 o'clock. Services Sunday morning at 10:45.
"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, or, The Art of Conjuring," is the title of the Lesson-Sermon to be read by Rev. L. A. Edwards, pastor of the First Congregational Church, Sunday, June 6. Among the subjects from the Bible is the story of the resurrection of Lazarus. "Regard not them that kill the body, but are unable to kill the soul; but rather fear him who can destroy both body and soul. He that is not with me is against me." (Matthew 10:28).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, one of the "Divine Mind" right hands man's entire obedience, and strength. No reason is made for any lesser obedience to Truth gives man strength and strength. Submission to superinduces loss of peace. (1 Peter 3:13).
Wednesday testimonial meeting at 7:30 p. m.

NOTICE

The South Bethel Cemetery will meet at the house of Mr. Hutchins, Friday, June 7, at 8 p. m. V. G. HUTCHINS, Secretary.

DEON HALL, BETHEL

8:30 Fast Time. Children 20c. Adults 30c.

FRIDAY NIGHT, JUNE 7

Chester Morris and Helen Twelveteers in "The Nightingale."

ing for a Night

Serial "The Nightingale" with Buck Jones and his Reel.

ORDON OF GHOST

with Buck Jones and his Reel.

SATURDAY, JUNE 8

Charlie Ruggles, - Phil Harnett in "The Nightingale."

Melody Cruise

A Dandy Musical with Single Reelers.

Friday, June 8

Harvey and Lew Ayres in "MY WEAKNESS."

Saturday, June 9

BE MINE TONIGHT.

TYPEWRITER RIBBONS

75c.

THE OXFORD COUNTY CITIZEN

VOLUME XL—NUMBER 9.

BETHEL, MAINE, THURSDAY, JUNE 7, 1934.

Four Cents A Copy—$2.00 A Year

THE OXFORD COUNTY CITIZEN

VOLUME XL—NUMBER 9.

BETHEL, MAINE, THURSDAY, JUNE 7, 1934.

Four Cents A Copy—$2.00 A Year

BETHEL AND VICINITY

Mrs. Ray Lisherness is visiting in Farmington this week. F. B. Merrill and E. P. Lyon were in Portland Tuesday.

Mrs. J. C. Metcalf of Farmington is the guest of her brother, E. M. Walker, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Russell of Methuen, Mass., spent the week end at C. O. Demeritt's.

Mrs. Gilbert Brown of Farmington is in town today to attend the Commencement exercises.

W. S. Sessions and son Walter were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Lapham Wednesday.

Mrs. Alberta Hisey of Errol spent last week with Mrs. Viella Crosby.

Her son, Harold, came after her Sunday.

Rev. R. C. Dalzell returned here Wednesday and his family accompanied him to their new home in Hampden today.

Miss Marion Everett, R. N., of Boston came Monday to care for her sister, Mrs. Philip Chapman, who still remains ill.

Miss Adelia Hanson of Andover and Mrs. Theodore Hewey of Wilton Mills are this week's guests of Mrs. Ralph Young.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Thompson and Ray Thompson are spending the week at Prince Edward Island.

Heavy thunder showers passing over this section Wednesday afternoon and evening caused some damage to shade trees and the electric light lines.

The Parent Teacher Association will hold the last meeting of the season at the grammar school building next Monday evening.

The committee in charge of the program is Mrs. Winfield Howe, Mrs. Stanley Wentzel, and Mrs. P. F. Crane.

MEMORIAL EXERCISES AT NEWRY CORNER

Memorial exercises were held at Newry Corner Wednesday, where the unveiling of the tablet in honor of Ralph Frost took place. A parade was formed, the George A. Mundt Post, American Legion, drum corps, leading, followed by their Auxiliary and the Newry school children. They formed around the monument where the exercises were carried out by the Legion. Ramona Morton gave the poem, "In Flanders Field." The response was by Willard Wight and the tablet was unveiled by Misses Emily Sweet and Martha Lane of Errol, N. H.

The following program was given in the hall:

Singing, "America," All Fittsburg Address, Daniel Wight, Patriotic Drills, Tableaux and Pageants, by the Four Schools, "America the Beautiful," Children's Spangled Banner, All Address.

Col. Albert Bailveau, Rumford poem written by Addie Kendall Mason, read by Lillian Smith, "God Be With You," All Benediction, Rev. Clifford Laws.

Mrs. Erma Young presided at the piano throughout the program. Mr. and Mrs. Irving French served banquet to the Legion and their friends.

TWO GAMES WITHIN WEEK

On Sunday, June 10, Bethel will make the strong Rumford Garage team. The game will start about 2:30 P. M. and will be at Riverside Park. On Wednesday, June 13, the Oxford Mill team of Rumford comes here to exhibit their wares.

Both teams come highly touted and Bethel fans can be sure of a good game. The boys deserve the very best of backing because they are working hard and a real team is rounding into shape. Come and all support your team. Put baseball across this year in a big way.

READ YOUR OWN CITIZEN

Why forego the pleasure of hearing from your home town each week, or any of the events reported in the Citizen's pages—or why depend on your friends to send you their copy of the Citizen occasionally or regularly—when you can have your own copy sent direct to you, anywhere in the United States, for any length of time at a rate of four cents a week?

PROMINENT PASTOR DIES SUDDENLY

Rev. Leland A. Edwards of Bethel Passes Away at Poland Spring Saturday

At the luncheon of the 41st District, Lions International, at Poland Spring Saturday, Rev. L. A. Edwards pastor of the Bethel Congregational Church was stricken and passed away suddenly.

The beloved minister, affectionately known as "Parson" Edwards by a host of friends throughout the State, was to have conducted the memorial services of the Lions that afternoon.

When word of his passing reached Bethel a tone of sadness overcast the community, for during his work among us he had won the friendship and love of everyone; his circle of acquaintance extending far beyond the bounds of his church, or the many other movements in which he was an untiring worker.

Funeral services were held in the Congregational Church Tuesday morning. Scripture was read and words of appreciation and comfort spoken by Rev. Rensel H. Colby of South Paris and prayer was offered by Rev. Wilbur I. Bull of Watford. Interment was at his former home in Vermont, where services were also held.

A more complete account of Mr. Edwards' life will be published in next week's issue.

MILLS-MUNDT

The wedding of Miss Bertha Marion Mundt of Bethel and Clayton Arthur Mills of Albany was solemnized Tuesday at 4 p. m. at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Mundt. Rev. P. J. Clifford, pastor of the local Methodist Church, officiated, using the double ring service. Only the immediate families and a few intimate friends witnessed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Verne Mills, cousin of the bride. Miss Neva Clare Mundt, niece of the bride, was flower girl, and John Reuben Mills, ring bearer.

The home and room where the ceremony was performed were attractively decorated with spring flowers and greenery, the color scheme being white and green. The bride, gowned in white organdie, carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. Her traveling suit was blue with accessories to match.

Following the ceremony, an informal reception was held. In the receiving line were the bride and bridegroom and their parents.

The bride was born in Bethel and was graduated from Gould Academy and Gorham Normal School. She taught in Bethel schools and for some time has been employed in the office of the Oxford County Citizen. She is a member of Sunset Rebekah Lodge and American Legion Auxiliary.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Zenas Mills of Albany. He was born in Norway and received his education in that town. He is employed in the forest service at Danby, Vt.

Mr. and Mrs. Mills left, following the reception, for Wallingford, Vt., where they will reside.

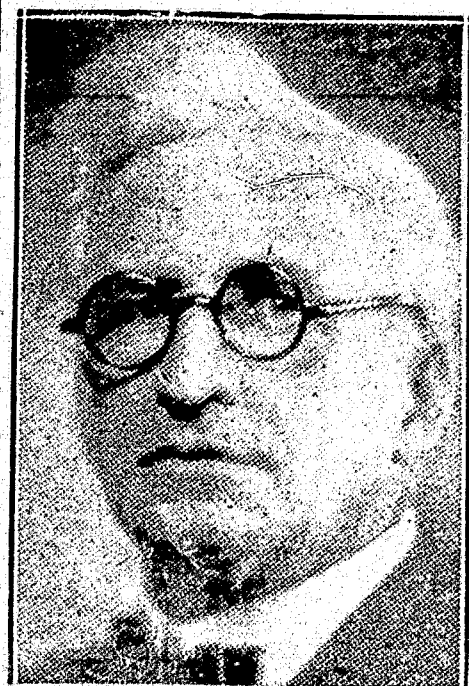

PARADE WILL OPEN JULY 4TH CELEBRATION

The George A. Mundt Post, of the American Legion plan to have a grand and glorious celebration on July 4, with a patriotic pageant as a background and plenty of sports, contests, races and midway attractions as fillers.

The parade in the forenoon will be the opening feature, and a good one. Business men, organizations, farmers, schools, camps and societies from this and other towns are invited to enter the parade. Floats, ancient vehicles, modern conveyances, Indians, horses, oxen, clowns, musicians and bicycles will all be welcome.

A pyramid of beauty surmounted by the Goddess of Liberty will be in the parade, and let us not overlook the "Horribles." Competent judges will decide on the prize winners. The display of fireworks will be the largest in years.

Vivian Akers, Norway artist, has a portrait in the Boston Art School exhibit.

REV. LELAND A. EDWARDS

GOULD BACCALAUREATE SERVICES HELD SUNDAY

The Rev. Cornelius Clark, pastor of the Woodfords Congregational Church, delivered the baccalaureate sermon to the senior class and the usual large congregation last Sunday, June 3rd, at 2:30 p. m.

The Rev. Clark chose as his subject "The Upward Path" and stressed the importance of work in general, the value of hobbies, and especially the significance of religion in ones life, together with the idea of service to mankind as a goal to be aimed at. His remarks were well chosen, and especially fitting to the occasion.

Preceding the sermon, the Girls' Glee Club sang two beautiful numbers under the direction of Miss Ruth Leavengood, Director of Music. Miss Jane Linton of the junior class acted as organist for the occasion.

NINETIETH ANNIVERSARY

The many Bethel friends of Mrs. J. U. Purlington, who remembered her so generously with a shower of good wishes on her birthday May 18th will be interested to know how she celebrated her ninetieth anniversary.

One of her first greetings came from Cheerio on the radio. As the stirring strains of a march announced the parade of the ninety year old birthdays, Cheerio said he could see a little white haired mother in Andover leading the procession and extended heartiest congratulations to her.

The morning was filled with the coming and going of children who brought their varied gifts of warm friendship. One little neighbor came with a German festival wreath of flowers on her head and on a silver tray presented a large 90 that was in fact a delicious breakfast roll surrounded with flowers. A tiny boy of 18 months brought yellow tulips that almost concealed him, and two little girls that seemed to have strayed from a Kate Greenaway book brought their love greetings.

From three to five o'clock about 75 friends came in for afternoon tea. They were received in the large living room by Mrs. John Voorhis Holt, Mrs. Purlington, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley K. Woodbury and Mrs. Reginald Woodbury Holt. Miss Belle F. Purlington was in charge of the dining room, assisted by Mrs. Hollis L. Roberts, Mrs. Harry V. Purlington served the teas. John V. Holt, Harry W. Purlington, and Reginald W. Holt extended hospitality among the guests. The home was filled with fragrant blossoms that had come from far and near, from Maine to Minnesota. The warmth of the greetings from the Andover friends showed the love and appreciation they have for home, and her welcome to them was hearty and sincere.

At seven o'clock a birthday dinner was given to 15 members of the family. A beautifully decorated birthday cake surrounded by a circle of lighted candles gleamed in the center of the table.

A quiet evening before the open fire surrounded by her family brought to a close one of the eventful days in the long and happy life of Mrs. Purlington.

The cards sent by Mrs. Purlington's Bethel friends brought her great happiness and she in turn through this message sends her warmest greetings to them.

SUPERIOR COURT, JUNE TERM

Hon. Herbert T. Powers, Justice Presiding.

Rupert F. Aldrich, Clerk. Edward T. Richardson, Court Reporter.

Matthew McCarthy, County Attorney.

William O. Frothingham, Sheriff. Albert A. Towne, Crier.

John J. Flynn, Turnkey. William L. Frothingham, Chester A. Cummings, and Albert Nelson, Deputies in Attendance.

Harry M. Shaw, Librarian. Paul Seavey, Messenger.

GRAND JURORS

Urban C. Bartlett, Bethel. Frank A. Bean, Woodstock.

L. E. Cole, Greenwood. Carleton E. Cox, Norway.

A. E. Davis, Mexico. J. Willis Dunham, Dixfield.

Owen P. Gilpatrick, Hiram. W. C. Goodwin, Watford.

Albert C. Greenlaw, Oxford. Leonard B. Hall, Peru.

Frank E. Holmes, Porter. Chester A. Learned, Andover.

L. L. Parks, Buckfield. Bessie M. Reed, Rumford.

C. T. Shortridge, Paris. Nellie B. Walker, Fryeburg.

TRAVERSE JURORS

Arthur Bean, Norway. Jason R. Bennett, Greenwood.

Lizzie Bennett, Lincoln Pl. Maud Cantin, Rumford.

Ernest C. Day, Woodstock. Harold Day, Porter.

Maud Dorey, Oxford. Clarence Ela, Fryeburg.

John Gauthier, Mexico. Wilfred A. Hersey, Watford.

Arthur Herick, Norway. Edward Hodsdon, Stow.

Emma B. Howe, Rumford. John H. Howe, Bethel.

H. C. Lancaster, Magalloway Pt. Roscoe L. Littlehale, Andover.

Harry I. Lowell, Paris. Fernando McAllister, Stoneham.

Sherman McDonald, Brownfield. J. A. McKenzie, Mason.

John McPherson, Mexico. Arthur M. Packard, Canton.

Frank Sanborn, Denmark. Isaac A. Searles, Peru.

Austin P. Stearns, Paris. Ida Sturtevant, Hebron.

Guy L. Tower, Sweden. Albert F. Ward, Hiram.

M. A. Warren, Buckfield. Edmond Williams, Dixfield.

DOUBLE FUNERAL HELD AT ALBANY

Double funeral services were held Wednesday at Albany for Amos L. Bean of Haverhill, Mass., who died at a hospital in that city Sunday night following a long period of ill health, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Inez Bean, who died Monday night at Snowville, N. H., having been ill since last February. Rev. McCallum of Haverhill conducted the services assisted by Rev. W. I. Bull of the Union Church at Watford.

Mr. Bean was born at Albany, October 1873, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos G. Bean; was educated in the schools of his native town and at Bridgton Academy. He married Miss Fern Johnson of Albany and six children were born to them: Omar, Burlingame, Cal. Carroll, Saco; Arthur, Springfield, Vt.; Everett, Haverhill, Mass.; Miss Alma Bean, Miami, Fla.; and Miss Virginia Bean, Haverhill, Mass.

After his marriage he lived in Auburn where he was employed as an electrician, moving to Haverhill, Mass., about 14 years ago, where he has since made his home. He is survived by his widow, six children, two brothers, H. L. Bean of Bethel and Percy Bean of Denver, Colo., and a sister, Mrs. David Burnham of North Andover, Mass.

Mrs. Inez Bean was born at Albany, 76 years ago, the daughter of Herman and Charlotte Cummings. She was twice married. Her first husband was Lucian Johnson of Albany and two children were born of this union, Guy of Snowville, N. H., and Mrs. Amos Bean of Haverhill, Mass. Frank Bean was her second husband.

They resided at Oxford until his death some years ago. Mrs. Bean was a member of the Congregational Church and the Grange at Albany. She is survived by the son and daughter mentioned and a brother, Wallace Cummings of Albany besides nieces, nephews and cousins.

Bearers were Roy Wardwell, Lucian Andrews, Herman Mason and Harvey Jones.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS HOLD SUCCESSFUL CARNIVAL DANCE

The first meeting of the Young Democratic Club of Bethel was celebrated by a Carnival Dance in the Grange Hall on the evening of May 31.

Miss Dorothy Edwards, leader of the active young democrats in this town, was mistress of ceremonies and introduced the speakers.

The hall was decorated in yellow and spring green, and the favors and dance orders were in harmony. Lord's five piece orchestra furnished music. Miss Beatrice Brown and Edward Poole led the opening march and dancing was enjoyed until a late hour. Mrs. Elmer Bennett and Wilbur Myers won the prize in the elimination waltz. Mrs. H. D. Thurston and Mrs. Milo McAllister were in charge of the refreshments.

About a hundred and fifty merry-makers were present and are unanimous in the declarations that it was a delightful occasion. Guests and speakers during the evening included Judge Matthew McCarthy, county attorney; W. O. Frothingham, sheriff; Chester Eastman, a candidate for county commissioner; William Goodwin and Clifford Russell, candidates for register of deeds; Ernest Record and Ernest Callendo, candidates for clerk of courts; Alton Bartlett, State Senator and State Committeeman from Oxford County; Burton W. Goodwin, candidate for State Senator; Joseph Pensiero, president of the Young Democratic Club of Mexico; Joseph Connolly, president of the Young Democratic Club of Portland and South Portland; Charles Quinn of South Portland; Hon. Shmoun Hamlin, ex-mayor of South Portland and candidate for Representative to Congress from the First District; Fred Rowell of Norway, Register of Probate; and Paul C. Thurston, candidate for United States Senator.

The Weather Bureau at Portland reports they had more sunshine in May this year than has been had since 1908.

Last week George L. Simpson, a high school student, rescued Anita Tardif from drowning at Waterville.

PRIMARY ELECTION WARRANT STATE OF MAINE

County of Oxford, ss.

To the qualified and legally enrolled Voters of the Town of Bethel: You are hereby notified that the Primary Election in this Town, of all political parties, entitled by law to nominate candidates for the next election, will be held at Odeon Hall on Monday, June eighteenth next, for the purpose of nominating candidates for the following offices to be voted for at the election to be held on the second Monday in September next, viz:

United States Senator, Governor, Representative to Congress, State Senators, Clerk of Courts, County Treasurer, Register of Deeds, Sheriff, County Attorney, County Commissioner, Representative in Legislature.

The polls will be opened at 9 o'clock, standard time, in the forenoon and continue open until 7 o'clock in the afternoon, when they will close.

Voters not enrolled as members of a political party entitled to nominate candidates will not be permitted to vote. Voters entitled to enrollment may cause themselves to be enrolled at the polling places during the primary election on taking and subscribing the oath required by law, but said voters shall not be allowed to vote at any primary election within the next six months following said enrollment unless a new voter, or a voter enrolling for the first time in that municipality.

The Selectmen will be in session at the Selectmen's Office on June 8th and 16th for the purpose of correcting the list of voters.

Dated at Bethel this 7th day of June, 1934.

FRANK A. BROWN
JOHN H. HOWE
CARROLL E. ABBOTT
Selectmen of the Town of Bethel

A true copy. Attest:

CARL L. BROWN, Citizen

SOUTH WOODSTOCK

June—the month of June brides, sunshine, and roses. Sure, they are still getting married and living happily ever afterward.

Thank the good Lord for what we have and for what we don't have. Thank Him for being allowed a few more days to live a better life. Thank Him that we are not so far suffering the terrible drought of the great western plains. "Thank God from whom all blessings flow. Thank Him, all creatures here below."

Mr. and Mrs. "Ned" Herrick and Junior, Mr. and Mrs. John Flagg, and Mrs. Flagg's daughters, Margie, Dorothea and Linda and sons, Kenneth and Elsworth Laurance, made up a motor picnic party spending Sunday at Lake Trip.

Tuesday night, May 29, Union School gave a program and entertainment to a crowded house. Long before the hour of opening the yard was filled with children, parents, with invited guests and friends. Everybody was out for the enjoyment. Miss Mary Hendrickson in charge of affairs, ably assisted by Mrs. Olive Davis, presented a nice program. The children showed excellent training. Many of the visitors were loud in praise of our Union School Annex. At the close of the entertainment a maybasket was given Miss Hendrickson, a love token from all the pupils of Union School.

The Braves of Molly Ockett were again attacked Sunday afternoon, June 2, by a wandering tribal band. A most courageous skirmishing party, Chief Big Gun and his Braves, were at rest after the noon day repast, the maidens arrayed in garlands of flowers disporting in the sunshine. Brave Roberts coming up the valley saw signs and sounded the alarm and on the appearance of the enemy everything was in quick action, every brave at his point of vantage. The conflict was fierce while it lasted, but as in former engagements the flag still waves from the pinnacle of Molly Ockett. The enemy retreated. The Braves' victory 9 to 4.

The Willing Workers at their last regular meeting were the guests of their president, Mrs. Jessie Abbott, at Highland Farms, North Paris. The day was beautiful and about 20 members were present to enjoy the program prepared. Quite a lot of work was accomplished. The terrible experience of housecleaning seemed the theme of general conversation. Mrs. Abbott served most delightful refreshments of sandwiches, fancy dishes of fruit salads, and delicious coffee with cream from the Highland Jerseys.

Calling recently at the Perham Farm, the home of five successive generations, I found George Washington Quimby right on the job. Son Edwin was in charge of the big tractor plowing and harrowing. Two brawny men, Bisbee and Martin, with a blocky pair of big horses, were carting dressing. Two other huskies were repairing fence on the cattle range. Wishing to use the house telephone, I found Mrs. Perham busily engaged in the pantry while several loaves of bread right from the oven showed good evidence of thrift. Nurse Flossie was away on a tour, administering to the sick. Several children coming in, I learned their names to be Catherine, "Betty," and Burton. Burton stated that he was attending school in second grade. Mr. Perham was very entertaining, telling me about the large acreage already planned for cultivation this season.

WEST BETHEL

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Maddocks, who have been the guests of Mrs. Estella Goodridge over the holiday, returned to their home in New Haven, Conn., Sunday.

E. J. Bell and son Harry of So. Paris were in town last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Phinney of Lewiston were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Kneeland and family Friday.

Lawrence Perry, Russell Burris, and Sherwin Bennett attended the Baccalaureate services at Bethel Sunday.

Dorothy Grover, R. N., of Lewiston is caring for Mrs. Florice McInnis, who is quite ill.

Mrs. Nellie Seabury has returned to Worcester, Mass.

Richard Jordan and family, also Robert Jordan of Auburn were the guests of their mother, Mrs. E. H. Jordan, Monday.

The game of ball which was played between Berlin, N. H., and West Bethel, was won by West Bethel, the score being 5 to 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bennett are in Boston for a few days.

The Pleasant Valley 4-H Club met last Saturday with Joyce Abbott. Five members were present and one visitor. The roll call was answered by each girl spelling her name backwards. Muffins were made at this meeting. After the meeting a social hour was enjoyed.

The boys' and girls' 4-H Club met last Wednesday evening at 7:30 at the school house for the judging contest. Miss Watters was with us as judge. The meeting was in charge of the boys. After the meeting the girls judged muffins, and the boys beans. The winner of the girls was Esther Wheeler.

BUSINESS CARDS

Watch This Space for Dates

Eyes Examined, Glasses Furnished

by

E. L. GREENLEAF

OPTOMETRIST

over Rowe's Store

DR. HOWARD E. TYLER

CHIROPRACTOR

Bethel

NORWAY

Mon. Afternoon

Tel. 221

Thurs. Evening

S. S. Greenleaf
Funeral Home
Modern Ambulance Equipment
TELEPHONE 112 BETHEL, ME.
DAY AND NIGHT SERVICE

E. E. WHITNEY & CO.

BETHEL, MAINE

MARBLE & GRANITE WORKERS

Chaste Designs

FIRST CLASS WORKMANSHIP

Letters of inquiry promptly answered

See Our Work—Get Our Prices

E. E. WHITNEY & CO.

Satisfaction Guaranteed

DR. RALPH OTIS HOOD

OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN

office at the Residence of Mrs. Wallace Clark

Daily 9 a. m. to 12 m.

2:30 to 5 p. m. except Wednesday

Evenings by appointment

GARARD C. EAMES

BETHEL, MAINE

Tel. 29-1012

Agent

Northwestern Mutual Life Ins. Co.

KNOW WHAT YOU BUY

Nationally Advertised Goods and

Sold by Bethel Merchants

The purchaser of standard advertised products takes no chance. The quality and price are right. The manufacturer cannot afford to have it otherwise.

BUY NATIONALLY ADVERTISED GOODS IN BETHEL

APOLLO Chocolates,

W. E. BOSSERMAN

CHILTON Pens, E. P. LYON

Community, Rogers Bros., and

Holmes & Edwards Silver, E. P. LYON

EASTMAN Kodaks, W. E. BOSSERMAN

EXIDE Batteries, CROCKETT'S GARAGE

GOODRICH Rubbers, ROWE

McKESON Health Products, W. E. BOSSERMAN

MICHAELS-STERN Clothes, ROWE

MUNSON WEAR, ROWE

MURRAY Tires, LORD'S GARAGE

PHILCO Radios, E. P. LYON

RADIOLA, Kolster Radios, CROCKETT'S GARAGE

WALK OVER Shoes, ROWE

WATERMAN Fountain Pens, W. E. BOSSERMAN

JUNE SALE

June 11th to June 16th ONE WEEK ONLY

Seasonable Merchandise at Close Out Prices

We want to convert our stock into cash. Will you help us do so?

Many things we are offering at much less than cost.

We are only listing a few of the many items.

COME IN. WE CAN SAVE YOU MONEY

SHOE DEPT.

MEN'S WORK SHOES

$1.98 per Pair

WALK OVER OXFORDS

$3.98

were $5.00 and $6.00

TENNIS SHOES

1 Lot, Sizes 11 to 2

50¢ per Pair

1 Lot, Ladies' Sizes

75¢ per Pair

1 Lot, Men's and Boys' Sizes

85¢ per Pair

LADIES' SPORT SHOES

$1.50 and $1.98

CHILDREN'S OXFORDS

98¢ per Pair

CHILDREN'S WHITE SANDALS

98¢ per Pair

1 Lot, LADIES'

LA FRANCE OXFORDS

$2.50

were 5.00 and 6.00

1 Lot, LADIES'

WALK OVER OXFORDS

$2.50

Dry Goods Dept.

ALL OF OUR

PRINTS

were 20c, 22c, 25c and 29c

at

19¢ per Yard

WHITE GOODS

were 30c, 35c and 40c

at

25¢ per Yard

Colored BROADCLOTH

19¢

COLORED

PIQUE and MATLEKAY

29¢

COLORED RAYON

20¢

VOILES, DIMITIES,

CHALLIES, GINGHAMS

and CRETONNES, at

15¢ per Yard

SHEETS, PILLOW

CASES, SHEETING

20% Off Regular Prices

First Quality OIL CLOTH

25¢ per Yard

BED SPREADS

Full Size 80x105

98¢ Each

FURNISHINGS

LADIES' GLOVES

were 50c and 75c, at

39c

PURE THREAD

SILK HOSE

FRENCH HEELS

Extra Values—ONLY

39c Pair

FULL FASHIONED

SILK HOSE

Our Regular 75c Hose at

59c

$1.25 and $1.00 Hose at

79c

ANKLETS

All Sizes—15c Pair

RAYON HOSE

3 Pairs for $1.00

CHILDREN'S

COTTON HOSE

3 Pairs for 50c

LADIES'

COTTON HOSE

1 Lot at 15c Pair

BOYS' AND GIRLS'

PLAY SUITS

69c

Worth $1.00

HOUSE DRESSES

89c Each

RAINCOATS

$2.98

MEN'S

ALL LEATHER

WORK GLOVES

50c

DRESS SHIRTS

75c

Were $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50

WORK SHIRTS

69c and 89c

BOW TIES

10c Each

FOUR IN HAND TIES

25c Each—Five for $1

COAT SWEATERS

$1.00 to $3.00

SWEAT SHIRTS

75c Each

ONE LOT

SUMMER CAPS

25c Each

ONE LOT

BOYS' SHIRTS

35c Each—3 for $1.00

SPECIAL — MEN'S

OVERALL PANTS

$1.00 Pair

BOYS' OVERALL PANTS

75c Pair

MEN'S SUITS

A Few at $10 and $15

Our $25.00 Suit at $20.00

Our $35.00 Suit at $25.00

ROWE'S

BETHEL

Established 1865

MAINE

WITH THE POETS

To Our Readers—If there is an old song or poem which you cannot find and would like to see in print, write the Citizen. If we are unable to locate it possibly another reader can furnish it for publication.

THE HOUSE BY THE SIDE OF THE ROAD

Sam Walter Foss

There are hermit souls that live withdrawn
In the peace of their self-content;
There are souls, like stars, that dwell apart,
In a fellowless firmament;
There are pioneer souls that blaze their paths
Where highways never ran;—
But let me live by the side of the road
And be a friend to man.

Let me live in a house by the side of the road,
Where the race of men go by—
The men who are good and the men who are bad,
As good and bad as I.
I would not sit in the scorners' seat,
Or hurl the critic's ban;—
Let me live in a house by the side of the road
And be a friend to man.

Let me live in a house by the side of the road,
By the side of the highway of life,
The men who press with the ardor of hope,
The men who are faint with the strife.
But I turn not away from their smiles nor their tears—
Both parts of an infinite plan;—
Let me live in a house by the side of the road
And be a friend to man.

Let me live in a house by the side of the road,
Where the race of men go by—
They are good, they are bad, they are weak, they are strong,
Wise, foolish—so am I.
When why should I sit in the scorners' seat
Or hurl the cynic's ban?—
Let me live in a house by the side of the road
And be a friend to man.

Let me live in a house by the side of the road,
Where the race of men go by—
They are good, they are bad, they are weak, they are strong,
Wise, foolish—so am I.
When why should I sit in the scorners' seat
Or hurl the cynic's ban?—
Let me live in a house by the side of the road
And be a friend to man.

Perkins Valley — Woodstock

Mrs. Orin Sprague and daughter at Leon Poland's for a short time.
Edith Sprague is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keith Bryant Pond.
Fred Keith is at Abner Benson's. He has a broken arm.
Clarence Lefoy of Albany was an overnight guest of Mr. and Mrs. Appleby Sunday night.
Mrs. Emma Perham is at South Hill, caring for Will Bibber, who is ill.
Leon Poland and Maud Benson are in Lewiston shopping one day a week.

NEWRY CORNER

Farm Bureau

The Farm Bureau meeting which was scheduled for May 21 and postponed was held Friday, June 1, at the Grange Hall with 12 members, 12 guests and four children present, members of the Upton Bureau being invited. The subject of this meeting was Children's Dresses and Suits and was made especially interesting by Miss Brewster, H. D. A.

A square meal for health was served, consisting of mashed potato, cold boiled ham, string beans, tomato and cucumber salad, white and dark bread, pineapple pie and coffee.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Pearl Kilgore. Subject, First Aid.

Mr. and Mrs. David Livingstone and Mrs. Sara Feindel of Berlin were recent week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. Holtham, daughter Joyce and son Darrell, of Sherbrooke, and Howard Hulbert and David Gordon of East Franklin, Maine, were at the home of Mrs. Grace Hulbert recently.

A large crowd gathered here Memorial Day at 4 p. m. to attend the exercises and unveiling of the monument on which is a bronze plate in memory of Ralph Frost, who was killed during the World War in France. Attorney Albert Bellevue of Rumford was speaker.

Mr. and Mrs. Carey and family have moved from Bartlett Bros. cottage on the Hanover road to the farm of Mrs. Edna Smith.

W. H. Bond of Garden City, N. Y., was at his home in town a few days recently.

Will Warren of North Anson was a Sunday guest of his sister, Mrs. Sarah Stearns, May 27.

Mrs. Burgess, who is staying with her daughter, Mrs. Cora Powers, is ill and under a physician's care.

F. W. Sanborn, Mrs. Twitchell and chauffeur of Norway were in town Memorial Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Forbes of Rumford were calling on friends in town one day the past week.

RETURN OF EXPENDITURES

PRIMARY CANDIDATES, 1934
Published by the Secretary of State in accordance with Chapter 263 of the Public Laws of 1911, as amended. These include all returns filed by candidates to be voted for in OXFORD COUNTY, where five dollars or more is shown to have been expended, the same tabulated to May 30.

For U. S. Senator	Expenditure
F. Harold Dubord	$164.48
Frederick Hale	204.20
Louis A. Jack	495.55
Clinton C. Stevens	29.49
Paul C. Thurston	271.74
For Governor	Expenditure
Alfred K. Ames	1,114.80
Louis J. Brann	16.18
Frank W. Carlton	1,202.87
Bliss W. Page	620.46
Donald B. Partridge	170.45
For Representative to Congress	Expenditure
Carroll L. Beedy	15.00
Simon M. Hamlin	57.96
For State Senator	Expenditure
Lon E. Wright	8.00
For Register of Deeds	Expenditure
Everett L. Lessard	15.50
Harvey E. Powers	5.50
For Sheriff	Expenditure
Howard F. Davis	18.30
For County Attorney	Expenditure
E. Walker Abbott	5.33
For County Commissioner	Expenditure
Elmer E. Baker	7.00
Chester C. Eastman	2.15
Harry B. McKen	8.20
For Representative to the Legislature	Expenditure
William H. Bryant	11.00
Marshall R. Hastings	5.15
Joseph V. Hunting	7.75
Floyd M. Mason	16.92
Albert H. Russ	6.42
Ralph D. Thurston	5.45
ROBINSON C. TORREY	Secretary of State.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas the Almighty Ruler of the Universe in His infinite wisdom has called from our midst Sister Florence Kilgore to the Great Grange above and

Whereas we bow our heads in submission to our Master's Will, we deeply feel the loss of our sister, who was ever loyal to our order, and when able, always willing to do her part.

Therefore be it resolved that we extend our deepest sympathy to her loved ones in their time of sorrow.

Resolved that a copy of these resolutions be placed upon our records; a copy sent to the family, and one to the Oxford County Citizen for publication, and that our charter be draped for a period of thirty days.

"She has taken her long journey, On that beautiful ship called Rest, Away from this world of sorrow, To a home of eternal rest. We have only your memory, dear sister,

To treasure our whole life through, But its sweetness will last forever, As we cherish our memory of you."

S. P. DAVIS
F. I. FRENCH
ADDIE SAUNDERS
Com. on Resolutions
May 5, 1934

SOUTH ALBANY

Friends and relatives in Albany were saddened to hear of the death of Mrs. Inez Bean and Amos L. Bean. A double funeral service was held at the Albany Church Wednesday, Interment in Hunt's Corner Cemetery.

Leo Stearns and Henry Durgin are working for Roy Wardwell with their teams, farming.

Remember to be on hand for the Circle Supper June 14.

Adelmar Morgan was a week end guest at Leon Kimball's.

The 13 Class with Henry F. Merrill, leader, will be at Hunt's Corner on Sunday, June 17, at 10 a. m., E. S. T.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Stearns visited her father in Denmark on Sunday.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas, God in His infinite wisdom has called our sister, and last Charter Member, Han B. Godwin, to the land that knows no pain and sorrow,

And Whereas, we bow our heads in submission to our Master's Will, yet we deeply feel the loss of our Sister whose loyalty to Bear River Grange never faltered.

Therefore be it resolved, that we extend our deepest sympathy to her loved ones in their time of sorrow.

Resolved that a copy of these resolutions be placed upon our records, a copy sent to the family, and one to the Oxford County Citizen for publication, and our charter be draped for thirty days.

ROBERT BEAN
S. P. DAVIS
SUSAN E. WIGHT
June 2, 1934.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank all those who assisted me in any way at the unveiling at Newry Corner.

MRS. IRVING FRENCH

EAST BETHEL

Miss Esther Holt of Boston is gaining from her recent operation of appendicitis and will soon be at home here.

Mrs. Jorgen Oleson spent Tuesday visiting at Songo Pond with friends.

Robert Allen has returned to the home of his aunt, Mrs. Ceylon Kimball, after spending the week end at South Paris.

Irving Kimball spent Sunday with his brother, Ceylon Kimball, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Hastings and children were in Greenwood Sunday.

Ben Kimball, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kimball were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. John Howe.

Mrs. James Swan is slowly gaining from her recent sickness.

NORTH LOVELL

Marion MacNamara from Augusta is visiting at Oris Lebaron's. Nettie Hill cleaned house for Susan Ellison at Center Lovell one day last week.

Mr. Brown has gone to Stow to visit his daughter, Mrs. Hannah Brown.

Mrs. Della McAllister from Norway has been stopping a few days at Oris Lebaron's.

Freeman McKen plowed and harrowed for Jess Adams one day last week.

Best Dairy Butter,	lb. 35c
Golden Heart
Raisin Bread,	10c
Macaroni and Cheese Loaf,	lb. 28c
Swift's Baked Loaf,	lb. 20c
Chicken Loaf,	lb. 30c
Baked Ham,	lb. 45c
Boiled Ham,	lb. 40c
Minced Ham,	lb. 20c

Allen's Market
PHONE 122 BETHEL

Better ditch Old Tires before they ditch you!
Hot roads "Blow" Weak Tires

If you've escaped trouble so far on thin old tires, thank your lucky stars—and have us put on new Goodyears!—blowout protected by patented Supertwist Cord in every ply. Let us show you why the public buys MILLIONS more Goodyears than any other tire. Try our real tire service!

GOODYEAR

The Public's FIRST-Choice—for 19 Years

We Are Now Distributors For PYROIL

$4.95
GOODYEAR SPEEDWAY
A Big Value For Little Money

$5.70
GOODYEAR PATHFINDER
The Quality Tire Within The Reach Of All

Prices subject to change without notice and to any State sales tax

Central Service Station

J. B. Chapman, Prop.

Tel. 103

Bethel, Maine

The Purpose

of the modern repair shop should be to keep your car going at the minimum expense. When you bring your car here for attention of any kind you are assured of satisfactory service.

A. H. GIBBS HIGH ST., BETHEL
Phone 105-3

Valley 4-H Club day with Joyce Ab
bers were present
The roll call was ch girl spelling bee
ds. Muffins were meeting. After the al hour was enjoy and girls 4-H Club
nesday evening at chool house for the Miss Watters was
e. The meeting was the boys. After the
ris judged muffins beans. The winner Esther Wheeler.

SS CARDS

Space for Date

Glasses Furnished

by

GREENLEAF

METRIST

owe's Store

RD E. TYLER

PRACITOR

NORWAI

Tel. 22

reenleaf

al Home

balance Equipment

BETHEL, ME

HT SERVICE

ITNEY & CO.

EL, MAINE

LANITE WORKER

Designs

S WORKMANSHIP

quiry promptly answered

Get Our Prices

ITNEY & CO.

on Guaranteed

H OTIS HOOD

IC PHYSICIAN

Residence of allace Clark

a. m. to 12 m.

except Wednes

by appointment

D C. EAMES

EL, MAINE

29-1012

Agent

Mutual Life Ins. Co.

AT YOU BU

verlised Goods at ethel Merchants of standard adv

takes no chance

nd price are rig

ror cannot afford

ise.

ILY ADVERTIS

IN BETHEL

olates,

W. E. BOSSERMA

s, E. P. LYON

gors Bros., and wards Silver,

E. P. LYON

laka,

W. E. BOSSERMA

es,

CKETT'S GARAG

ubbers, ROWE

alth Products,

W. E. BOSSERMA

ERN Clothes,

ROWE

AR,

s, LORD'S GARAG

s, E. P. LYON

ister Radios,

CKETT'S GARAG

Shoes, ROWE

ountain Pens,

W. E. BOSSERMA

THE OXFORD COUNTY CITIZEN PUBLISHED THURSDAYS AT BETHEL, MAINE

CARL L. BROWN, Publisher

Entered as second class matter,
May 7, 1908, at the post office at Bethel, Maine.

Any letter or article intended for publication in the Citizen must bear the signature and address of the author and be written on only one side of the paper. We reserve the right to exclude, or publish contributions in part.

Single copies of the Citizen are one sale at the Citizen office and also by
W. E. Bosserman, Bethel
Donald and Irving Brown, Bethel
Lawrence Perry, West Bethel
George Stearns, Hanover
Gordon Chase, Bryant Pond
John Tebbets, Locke Mills

THURSDAY, JUNE 7, 1934.

BETHEL NEEDS

More and Better Sidewalks—winter and summer,
Rural Fire Protection, Night Watchman—All the Year,
Enforced Traffic Rules, Australian Ballot System for Town Meetings.

Uruguay East of U. S.

Uruguay, where the Pan-American economic conference convened, is the smallest of the South American republics, being roughly about the size of Ohio and Indiana combined. Geographically, it is situated farther east than the United States, being due south of Newfoundland. Uruguay was first discovered in 1515 by the Spanish, but despite early efforts at colonization was not settled by Europeans until 1621. It passed through much warfare, both internal and external, but finally emerged as an independent republic in 1828. Its resources are largely agricultural, sheep, cattle and horses being raised extensively, while wheat, corn and flaxseed are also extensively raised. The capital, Montevideo, was colonized in 1720.

Have Jealousy Cure

Medical science has until recently regarded jealousy as a defect of character that is incurable. Psychologists have come to the conclusion, however, that jealousy is a disease, with the same general characteristics as other diseases. Jealousy is a mixture of fear, envy and weakness. It is just as uncontrollable as love, which comes and goes without any conscious effort of will.
The only difference between love and jealousy is that whereas love is incurable, jealousy can be treated by means of psychotherapy. The basic cause of jealousy is discovered by means of exhaustive psychoanalysis and after this a complete cure can be effected in most cases.
The jealous person is given hormones and is otherwise treated in the same way as a chronic disposition.

Constantine's Sunday Order

Constantine's famous Sunday edict was issued March 7, 321. The translation is: Constantine, Emperor Augustus, to Heliopolis: On the venerable day of the sun let the magistrates and people residing in the cities rest, and let all workshops be closed. In the country, however, persons engaged in agriculture may freely and lawfully continue their pursuits; because it often happens that another day is not so suitable for grain sowing or for vine planting, lest by neglecting the proper moment for such operations, the bounty of heaven should be lost.

Acorn Still Eaten

The acorn still holds a place in the human diet particularly in the Far East where the nuts are baked, shelled, ground into flour, and used to make a type of bread. In earlier days the Indians in this country used the acorn of the white oak and the sweet acorn of the Pacific states. In England the acorn is a valuable food for fattening hogs, and the so-called right of pannage is practiced. Under this right individuals are permitted to turn their hogs loose in the king's forests to feed on the falling nuts.

Bridging the Gap

SONGO POND

Mrs. Will Bird and two grandchildren and Charlie Kimball spent Tuesday evening at Herbert Damon's.
Mrs. Leonard Kimball is staying at A. B. Kimball's while her husband is working in Rumford.
Mr. and Mrs. Abner Kimball went to the Memorial exercises at Hunt's Corner Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Damon and brother were callers at Herbert Damon's Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hobson were callers in town Friday night.

Mrs. Helen Damon, Mr. and Mrs.
Waldo Killen and five children spent the week end at Herbert Damon's.

Callers at Herbert Damon's Sunday were Lewis Damon, Miss Stone, Mrs. Will Bird, and two grandchildren, Erma and Alton Rich and Mrs. Floyd Kimball and daughter Kathryn.

Will McAllister plowed for Herbert Damon June 3.

Mrs. Winnie Emery called on Mrs. Herbert Damon Wednesday afternoon, May 30.

Mr. and Mrs. Abner Kimball went to Conway, N. H., June 3, to see Mrs. Inez Bean.

Charlie Conner was a recent caller at A. B. Kimball's.

Frank Murphy is peeling pulp for A. B. Kimball.

Herbert Damon and Warren Lap-ham are working on the new bridge in Albany.

Joe Hamel has gone up country in the big woods to work.

Leonard Kimball was home from his work over the week end.

Governor Brann recently proclaimed a quarantine against the transportation of anything likely to contain Japanese beetles into several parts of Maine.

Maine's timberlands still suffer as uncontrolled forest fires rage throughout the state.

NOTICE OF LOST BANK BOOK

Notice is hereby given that the Bethel Savings Bank has been notified that book of deposit issued by said bank to Edward M. Brown and numbered 967 has been destroyed or lost, and that he desires to have a new book of deposit issued to him.

BETHEL SAVINGS BANK,
E. F. Bean, Treas.,
Bethel, Maine.

New World's Fair at Night

New lighting marvels are one of the most impressive features to great crowds at the new World's Fair in Chicago. This view was taken from the 200-foot level of the Sky Ride, looking south.

Call at O. K. CLIFFORD CO., INC.
South Paris, Maine

See the new Reo, 1½-2½ ton 184 in. Wheelbase Speedwagon with the Reo "Gold Crown" engine, 330 cubic inch piston displacement, 7 bearing crankshaft, 57.12 square inch bearing surface, 245 square inch floating rear axle; Four Wheel Hydraulic brakes, 245 square inch braking surface, 56"x2½" rear spring, 40"x2" front, 2.00x20 tires, single front, dual rear. In all there are 16 distinct superiorities.

Fourteen Islands Form Cape Verde Archipelago

Fourteen islands, ten of which are inhabited, make up the Cape Verde archipelago. They lie about 300 miles west of the African continent.
All are of volcanic origin.

The islands are swept almost constantly by swift winds, and both the slopes of their lofty, extinct volcanoes and the sea shore appear bleak and arid from the fall of an approaching steamer. Like Greenland, Cape Verde (meaning Greer Cape) is a misnomer. The name is derived from green seaweed, which drifts into the islands' bays from the Atlantic. The interior valleys of the larger islands, made fertile by earth washed down from the mountains, are the only spots which might give the island group a right to its appellation.

If the 14 islands could be on the state of Rhode Island, only a few rugged edges would extend over the borders of the diminutive New England state. St. Thiago, largest of the Cape Verdes, duplicates the city of Los Angeles in area. The smallest island is so tiny that it is measured by square yards rather than square miles.

The archipelago forms a province of Portugal and its governor general is appointed by the Portuguese government. He resides at Porto Prata on St. Thiago, a city of about 35,000 inhabitants, of whom most are negroes.—Chicago Daily News.

Asbestos Was Found When Needed by the Country

Just when civilization began most to need it, asbestos was found, notes a writer in the Washington Star.

In the very nick of time, when we began to melt metals in fiery furnaces and to use red-hot machinery in thousands of factories, we learned of a substance which could be obtained from ordinary rock which would protect us from heat because it neither burns nor melts.

Asbestos is used practically everywhere today. In our homes, we have it in our kitchens in the shape of "hot handles" and it shields the pipes of our furnaces. Sometimes it is built into the very walls of our houses to make them fireproof.

When the earth's crust first hardened into rocks, millions and millions of years ago, some of the veins in the rock were filled with a stuff called serpentine. It is this serpentine which is the mother of asbestos.

Mined from rock in Georgia and Canada, serpentine is ground up into soft white pulpy stuff which is very light and quite tough. The pulp is then broken up, cleaned and carded like wool for weaving into cloth.
Ordinarily, fine wires are woven into the cloth with the threads of asbestos, which, being rock crystal, would otherwise be too brittle to be durable.

History of Hungarians

Little is known of the history of the Hungarians previous to their appearance in Europe in 894. They are generally believed to be the descendants of the Scythians, and to have come from regions about the Caspian sea. They first settled along the Middle Volga, but having been pressed westward, they in 890 crossed the Carpathian mountains under Almos, and under the further leadership of his son Arpad they conquered the ancient Pan-nonia and "Bacia of the Romans"; and this, their new country, was in the year 1000 formed into a regular kingdom by Stephen.

UNIQUE

REGULAR LIFE INSURANCE

PLUS—Double and Triple Indemnity for Accidental Death

PLUS—Weekly Accident Indemnity
for Disabling Accidents

United Life & Accident Ins. Co.
Concord, New Hampshire

LAWRENCE D. KIMBALL
Dist. Mgr.

Bethel Phone 23-25

WEST PARIS HIGH COMMENCEMENT

The interest of the week has been centered in the Commencement exercises of West Paris High School. Beginning with Friday morning, June 1, last chapel was held with the following program:

Selection, Orchestra
March, Juniors
Hymn, Seniors
Prayer, Rev. A. E. Maxwell
Remarks, Senior President Response, Junior President
Trumpet solo, Shirley Welch
Remarks, Rev. Eleanor Forbes
Song, Seniors
Remarks, Juniors
Reading, Hilma Mikkonen
Song, School
Juniors ushered to Senior section
Seniors ushered from room
Sunday morning the baccalaureate service was held from the Baptist Church. Rev. A. E. Maxwell gave the sermon. Rev. Eleanor Forbes offered prayer. Singing by a chorus choir from the village churches. Mrs. Herbert E. Hill, soloist.
Herbert E. Hill sang a solo, and the school song was sung.

Wednesday evening the following program was given:

Selection, Orchestra
Processional, Rev. A. Avikainen
Invocation, Doris Stetson Salutatory, Hilja McKen
Class History, Leona Curtis
Class Prophecy, Leona Curtis
Selection, Orchestra
Class Will, Wesley Oliver
Class Gifts, Howard Smith
Class Grumbler
Valedictory, Maitland Williams, Jr.
Class Ode Awarding Alumni Prize
Awarding of Diplomas
Benediction
Recessional
Selection, Orchestra
A reception followed.
Thursday evening the Alumni Banquet was held at Grange Hall.
A dance followed with music by Gordon Waite and Aristocrats.

WEST PARIS

The Bates Literary Club will hold their annual outing on Tuesday afternoon at "Robbins Nest," Locke Mills. Mrs. Albion Abbott, hostess.

The Credit and Loan Association comprised of Norway, Paris, Lewiston and Portland, will hold their annual banquet at the Universalist Church Wednesday evening, June 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin L. Bowker of Portland were callers on Memorial Day at C. F. Barden's and H.
R. Tuell's.

Mrs. Leona Ridlon is gaining from an illness of the past week.
Mrs. Lottie Willis and Harold Willis of Portland and Alvin Swift of South Paris were callers at Mrs.
Laura McKen's Tuesday.

Mrs. Arlene Farr and daughter Maxine have returned from a visit with her sister, Mrs. John Ring, Greenwood.

Walter Ring visited his brother, John Ring, and family at Greenwood over the week end.

Fancy Assorted Cookies,

19c, 33c, 35c

Saltines in Tin, 37c

Butter Wafers in Tin, 39c

Cream Lunch, 29c

Ginger Snaps, 21c

Pilot Crackers, 22c

2 lb. Sodas, 35c

3 lb. Sodas, 50c

Tender Leaf Tea, Orange

Pekoe or Formosa, ¼ lb. 35c

Beech Nut Coffee, 1b. 35c

Sanka Coffee, 55c

Kaffee Hag Coffee, 55c

L.W. Ramsell Co.

PHONE 114

GOOD PRINTING

CITIZEN
OFFICE
PHONE 184

reconnaissance

STEWART HOOKER

McClure Newspaper Syndicate
WNU Service.

"WAS my buddy," said

papal McTigue.

regular," said Barnswallow

bent over the limp figure

see. He rested on his sterned on the stars. A trapnel showered them

ents.

er get him back. . . .

ing in the direction of connoter some-hours be-

McTigue did not answer

inking of the afternoon

hen Jim Larrabee had up his all but lifeless

the waters of Eureka been had labored over his

oon before his efforts, it seemed to be futile, but ark of life. That ined the beginning of an u-friendship. Even McTi-

age had not weakened

Larrabee was a frequen-

in his home and pretty ue had taken a great

n, too. And now Larrabee victim of a random eist him on my back," Mc-ected presently, hugging

ed.

arnswallow sensed the fu-ssenting. "We'll alternate

Progress was desper-

Occasionally bullets wend.

esently McTigue felt his on brush against his shohad advanced perhaps two wards. Barnswallow work-along side and Larrabee's

figure was transferred to les cracked with greater

ey and occasionally an air overhead. Then Barn-discovered McTigue had h-

's getting light," Barnsw-ured.

Tigue was silent. Barn-knew he was weighing ces from every angle.

on push on," he said in stlek."

arnswallow shook his him" doing," he protested.

—n it, one of us has g-rt back," McTigue said, bl-ou're the skipper," Barn-said.

Tigue lay still for a long well tore a hole in the fifty feet from where the ness we'll have to leave nd," McTigue said after ey deposited the corpse

born by the shell.

suppose," McTigue said,

we ought to search his c-things."

arnswallow nodded. Lara brother in Kansas City.

r married.

arnswallow fumbled at the of Larrabee's jacket.

e flaked with dirt and dry

s face was ghastly whehed. He had gathered a bacco pouch, a handkerch-

ed letter and a small

h.

Nothing of value," he said, toward McTigue, who seizction.

Was this all?"

es?" . . . hesitantly.

That's that? In your ir"

a photograph . . . of arnswallow said. "You pro-one."

haven't," McTigue snapped me he didn't have one.

it."

arnswallow made no mo-

ply. McTigue cursed ly.

Give me that picture," he aded, springing from the g-voice keyed to the pitch

itions, carried to alert e-

A machine gun spatte-

all around. McTigue pard.

rees!" he muttered, as his ulled, relaxed and was arnswallow flattened to

nd. He remained motionle-

s time, cheek pressed a-damp earth. Then he rit was fast becoming ore pushing toward the tre-

Reconnaissance

STEWART HOOKER

McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
WNU Service.

"WAS my buddy," said Corporal McTigue, "regular," said Barnswallow, a bent over the limp figure of McTigue. He rested on his back, fastened on the stars. A burst of rain showered them with er got him back. . . there tonight," Barnswallow said, "in the direction of the from whence they had begun

McTigue did not answer. He thinking of the afternoon long when Jim Larrabee had gathup his all but lifeless form the waters of Eureka lake. hee had labored over him all oon before his efforts, which seemed to be futile, brought ark of life. That incident the beginning of an unflag- friendship. Even McTigue's age had not weakened the Larrabee was a frequent vis- in his home and pretty Mollie ue had taken a great liking in, too. And now Larrabee lay victim of a random enemy ist him on my back," McTigue eted presently, hugging the arnswallow sensed the futility ssenting. "We'll alternate," he

Progress was desperately Occasionally bullets whined

end. esently McTigue felt his com- on brush against his shoulder.

had advanced perhaps twenty- ards. Barnswallow worked his along side and Larrabee's fla- figure was transferred to his les cracked with greater fre- ey and occasionally an airplane overhead. Then Barnswal- discovered McTigue had halted.

g's getting light," Barnswallow ured.

McTigue was silent. Barnswal- knew he was weighing their ces from every angle. ou push on," he said finally.

stiek." rnsallow shook his head. in' doing," he protested.

—n it, one of us has got to t back," McTigue said, bitterly.

on're the skipper," Barnswal- said.

McTigue lay still for a long while. ell tore a hole in the earth, fifty feet from where they lay. ness we'll have to leave him nd," McTigue said after a ey deposited the corpse in the orn by the shell. suppose," McTigue said, slow- we ought to search his clothes things." rnsallow nodded. Larrabee a brother in Kansas City. He'd firm his startling discovery. He rolled over until his body pressed against that of his newly fallen comrade.

In the pocket of McTigue's shirt he located the object of his search, a small photograph of McTigue's wife, which the latter had proudly displayed on frequent occasion. Mollie McTigue was unmistakably pretty. The inscription on the back of the photograph read:

"Lovingly yours,
"Mollie."

Barnswallow compared this photo- graph with the one found in Lar-abee's jacket. They were identical, except that on the back of Larra- bee's Mollie McTigue had scrawled:

"To Jim, my own. Loving you al- ways,
"Mollie."

The sun nosed over the horizon and there was a something clean and refreshing about the damp earth as Barnswallow wriggled forward.

Condor Is Not as Fierce or as Large as Thought

The condor, largest bird of South America and once believed to be the largest bird in existence, was the subject of many fearsome tales, but eventually cold facts served to deprive it of much of its awesome- ness.

Until the bird had been caught and actually examined it was be- lieved to have a wing spread of as much as 40 feet and was said to be capable of seizing and carrying off lambs, young children and even small calves.

However, once a condor had been captured, it was discovered that its claws were blunt, short and in- capable of grasping and carrying away any of the victims tradition- ally claimed for it.

Even its size was found exagger- ated. The California vulture is its equal and other birds of greater size have been found.

The condor is a sound sleeper, in fact so much so that it is possible to creep up behind it and capture it by throwing a noose over its head.

For food, it depends largely on carrion, but does kill young animals feeding on the carcass on the ground.

Inoculation for Smallpox

Inoculation for smallpox was first practiced in China during the Sung dynasty. During the reign of Jon Tseng, 1023-1062, A. D., the prime minister, Wang Tan, whose son was suffering severely from small-pox, was informed of the successful preventive inoculation discovered by a philosopher living at O Mel mountains, at Szechuen. He told the minister that the child was a fit subject for inoculation and it was done the next morning. The seventh day the fever disappeared and on the twelfth day the pustules dried up. As smallpox was brought to China by the Huns, and as the O Mel mountains are on the border of India, it is suggested that this method came via the trade routes from India.

How Valuable

Is Your Checking Account?

Does the amount you ear- ry on deposit pay for the service rendered?

Bethel National Bank

Bethel, Maine

MAGAZINE SUBSCRIPTIONS

CITIZEN OFFICE PHONE 18-11

WEST STONEHAM

Mrs. John Adams was home a few days from I. A. Andrews', re- turning to her work again Thurs- day morning.

Zenon Fontaine had the misfor- tune to lose his house and all his things in it by fire Monday night.

Mrs. Albert Adams and daugh- ters, Jeannette and Elizabeth, and Mrs. John Adams, also Mrs. Char- lie Carley and daughters, Florence and Jeannie, called on Perley Ad- ams Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Enid Melrose and son Ro- land, also Eleanor Starbark and friend from Massachusetts, were at her farm for a few days over Mem- orial.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Report of Meeting, June 4

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

The Girl Scouts held their meet- ing on June 4, with an attendance of 22. The meeting was opened by forming the horseshoe and repeat- ing the Girl Scout laws and prom- ise. We then went to our patrol corners where we practised band- aging after Mrs. Davis showed us how. The Court of Honor follow- ed after the meeting.—Helen Lowe, Scout Scribe.

MILTON

Several of the men from this way are working on the State road at Bryant Pond.

Clara Jackson had the teachers and children of the four higher grades of her building at her home here on a picnic Thursday night.

Joe Jackson and wife of Auburn visited his brother, Clarence Jack- son, over the week end.

Florence Merrill and children of Bridgton were at her mother's, Mrs. J. H. Ackley's, Sunday.

Mrs. Mattie George and Bertha Packard were at their home here one day last week.

One of Asa Sessions' teams has been doing some plowing for Orin Bowker.

Mrs. J. H. Ackley has had a piece built on her shed recently. Several from this way attended the Memorial Services at Bryant Pond.

NORTH NEWRY

Mrs. Abbie Littlehale and Miss Martha Lane of Errol, N. H., were guests over Memorial at F. W. Wight's.

The sand is being put out for tar on the road through Newry.

Mrs. Viola Crosby of Bethel called on her nephew, H. H. Hanscom, Sunday. She also called at Mrs. L. E. Wight's.

The community was saddened Saturday to learn of the sudden death of Rev. L. A. Edwards at Po- land Spring.

The graduation exercises of Newry schools will be held at the Church Friday.

E. W. Long and party from Springfield, Mass., are at Wight's Brook Camp for a few days fish- ing.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Sewall of Springfield, Mass., are here on a vacation.

L. E. Wight is tending out on Old Spec Mountain until the regu- lar watchman, Daniel Wight, gets home from school.

Daniel Wight has been appointed marshal of the advanced Senior class at Gorham Normal School.

Rev. and Mrs. Ronald Irons were in town calling Tuesday.

Mrs. Sarah Wight is celebrating her 85th birthday today.

REMINGTON

TYPEWRITERS

CITIZEN OFFICE PHONE 18-11

Now on display!

WORLD'S LOWEST-PRICED SIX

A group of additional new models for the 1934 Chevrolet line—four full-size cars—100% Chevrolet in quality and reliability.

$465

CHEVROLET

How Valuable

Is Your Checking Account?

Does the amount you ear- ry on deposit pay for the service rendered?

Bethel National Bank

Bethel, Maine

MAGAZINE SUBSCRIPTIONS

CITIZEN OFFICE PHONE 18-11

WEST STONEHAM

Mrs. John Adams was home a few days from I. A. Andrews', re- turning to her work again Thurs- day morning.

Zenon Fontaine had the misfor- tune to lose his house and all his things in it by fire Monday night.

Mrs. Albert Adams and daugh- ters, Jeannette and Elizabeth, and Mrs. John Adams, also Mrs. Char- lie Carley and daughters, Florence and Jeannie, called on Perley Ad- ams Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Enid Melrose and son Ro- land, also Eleanor Starbark and friend from Massachusetts, were at her farm for a few days over Mem- orial.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Report of Meeting, June 4

The meeting was opened with a flag ceremony and the Scout Oath. It was voted upon by the troop to pay for the merit badges and Assistant Scoutmaster's and Scoutmaster's badges. The troop decided to attend Rev. L. A. Ed- wards' funeral on Tuesday. Scout meetings, other than the one on Monday, and other Scout activities were not carried out because of the death of Mr. Edwards. The meeting was closed by the Scout salute to the flag.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

The Girl Scouts held their meet- ing on June 4, with an attendance of 22. The meeting was opened by forming the horseshoe and repeat- ing the Girl Scout laws and prom- ise. We then went to our patrol corners where we practised band- aging after Mrs. Davis showed us how. The Court of Honor follow- ed after the meeting.—Helen Lowe, Scout Scribe.

MILTON

Several of the men from this way are working on the State road at Bryant Pond.

Clara Jackson had the teachers and children of the four higher grades of her building at her home here on a picnic Thursday night.

Joe Jackson and wife of Auburn visited his brother, Clarence Jack- son, over the week end.

Florence Merrill and children of Bridgton were at her mother's, Mrs. J. H. Ackley's, Sunday.

Mrs. Mattie George and Bertha Packard were at their home here one day last week.

One of Asa Sessions' teams has been doing some plowing for Orin Bowker.

Mrs. J. H. Ackley has had a piece built on her shed recently. Several from this way attended the Memorial Services at Bryant Pond.

NORTH NEWRY

Mrs. Abbie Littlehale and Miss Martha Lane of Errol, N. H., were guests over Memorial at F. W. Wight's.

The sand is being put out for tar on the road through Newry.

Mrs. Viola Crosby of Bethel called on her nephew, H. H. Hanscom, Sunday. She also called at Mrs. L. E. Wight's.

The community was saddened Saturday to learn of the sudden death of Rev. L. A. Edwards at Po- land Spring.

How Valuable

Is Your Checking Account?

Does the amount you ear- ry on deposit pay for the service rendered?

Bethel National Bank

Bethel, Maine

MAGAZINE SUBSCRIPTIONS

CITIZEN OFFICE PHONE 18-11

WEST STONEHAM

Mrs. John Adams was home a few days from I. A. Andrews', re- turning to her work again Thurs- day morning.

Zenon Fontaine had the misfor- tune to lose his house and all his things in it by fire Monday night.

Mrs. Albert Adams and daugh- ters, Jeannette and Elizabeth, and Mrs. John Adams, also Mrs. Char- lie Carley and daughters, Florence and Jeannie, called on Perley Ad- ams Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Enid Melrose and son Ro- land, also Eleanor Starbark and friend from Massachusetts, were at her farm for a few days over Mem- orial.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Report of Meeting, June 4

The meeting was opened with a flag ceremony and the Scout Oath. It was voted upon by the troop to pay for the merit badges and Assistant Scoutmaster's and Scoutmaster's badges. The troop decided to attend Rev. L. A. Ed- wards' funeral on Tuesday. Scout meetings, other than the one on Monday, and other Scout activities were not carried out because of the death of Mr. Edwards. The meeting was closed by the Scout salute to the flag.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

The Girl Scouts held their meet- ing on June 4, with an attendance of 22. The meeting was opened by forming the horseshoe and repeat- ing the Girl Scout laws and prom- ise. We then went to our patrol corners where we practised band- aging after Mrs. Davis showed us how. The Court of Honor follow- ed after the meeting.—Helen Lowe, Scout Scribe.

MILTON

Several of the men from this way are working on the State road at Bryant Pond.

Clara Jackson had the teachers and children of the four higher grades of her building at her home here on a picnic Thursday night.

Joe Jackson and wife of Auburn visited his brother, Clarence Jack- son, over the week end.

Florence Merrill and children of Bridgton were at her mother's, Mrs. J. H. Ackley's, Sunday.

Mrs. Mattie George and Bertha Packard were at their home here one day last week.

One of Asa Sessions' teams has been doing some plowing for Orin Bowker.

Mrs. J. H. Ackley has had a piece built on her shed recently. Several from this way attended the Memorial Services at Bryant Pond.

NORTH NEWRY

Mrs. Abbie Littlehale and Miss Martha Lane of Errol, N. H., were guests over Memorial at F. W. Wight's.

The sand is being put out for tar on the road through Newry.

Mrs. Viola Crosby of Bethel called on her nephew, H. H. Hanscom, Sunday. She also called at Mrs. L. E. Wight's.

The community was saddened Saturday to learn of the sudden death of Rev. L. A. Edwards at Po- land Spring.

REMINGTON

TYPEWRITERS

CITIZEN OFFICE PHONE 18-11

CHAPTER XIII

No Quarter.

She broke off to study Mary closely.

"Miss Brown, let's go out to lunch together, and talk as we eat."

"Thanks," said Mary. "But I haven't time to eat. I must pack. I'm leaving the hotel this evening."

The girl gave her an eloquent look, then summarily snatched her hat from the rack, and came outside to link her arm in Mary's.

"On the square, Miss Brown, how long since you've eaten?"

Mary laughed weakly in surrender. "All right. It has been two days. And I'm strong and husky, and quite able to stand up under a little dieting when it seems expedient."

They were walking down the lobby, side by side. "If you've the sense you look as if you had," said the girl, "you'll lunch with me today, and take me out sometime when you're on your feet, as you're going to be."

"You win," said Mary, and they made their way to a cafeteria.

"I'll fill your tray," said the girl whose name Mary had learned was Edna Dale, Mrs. Edna Dale. "I know a lot more than you do about how big a surprise the stomach can stand up under."

"And I never dreamed," Mary said a few minutes later, "that a mere bowl of soup could make a stomach feel as if it had died and gone to heaven. But don't be feeling sorry for me. I needn't have been hungry. And—I'd not have let myself starve."

"You have friends," Mrs. Dale stated. "I've noticed them with you at the hotel."

"Mr. and Mrs. Stark," Mary assented. "They've insisted that I stay with them until I find a job. But—the old determination showed in her eyes—I wanted to stand on my own. You see, my slogan happens to be, No quarter."

"Mr. Stark hasn't been able to point you to anything?"

Again Mary's cynical smile. "He has let me know of several openings. But—some of them always got them first. She didn't add that she had stood aside to let some one else get them first, that the old obsession which had prevented her from taking work in Paradise Valley had followed her here, like a crime she had committed from which she never would get away."

"What's your line?" Edna Dale was asking.

"I'm a civil engineer. But I'd wash dishes, or sell flowers on a corner."

"See here. How would you like to come out with me for a time?"

Tears rushed to Mary's eyes. Kindness was so overpowering, after weeks of having it hammered into her that she was just another person looking for a job. "You're not called upon to adopt me, you know, Mrs. Dale."

"I know. And I'm not being entirely unselfish. I have an apartment in what used to be a swell house. It's not bad. We—might hit it off together. If you wouldn't mind sleeping on a cot in the living room—or a little boy about six—"

Mary said chokily. "I'll jump at a chance to come—and to stay, if I can find something to do to hold up my end."

So it came about that Mary, checking out at the hotel, wrote lines to four disillusioning weeks. "So endeth the first chapter of the thumb-worm melodrama about the innocent girl jilted by the cruel city and her cruel hero," she said wryly to Mrs. Dale as they were about to set out for their quarters. "By the way, when Mr. Stark calls up, give him my new address, and tell him I've taken a temporary job (for at least I shall be your housekeeper) but am still interested in any opening he may know about."

"Does that message hold for the slow young man, too?"

"That slow young man," Mary laughed, "has also been just steady enough to have saved up a sufficient stake so that he can sit pretty and wait for something to turn up. No, you won't need to give Walt-a-Minute, as we called him on the job where we both worked, any message. Here he comes, now, to help me move—a veritable 'Johnny-on-the-Spot.' I don't know," she added uncertainly, "how I'd have worried through these weeks without Neil."

Neil plotted the two to a taxi, looking a little uncertain as Edna gave the address, and still a little more uncertain as they stopped before the large old house. But a dark plump little boy had dashed joyously from the yard to Edna's arms.

"My Dickie," Edna said. As she shook hands with the child Mary noticed that he had his mother's vaguely familiar eyes. Then she observed that Edna actually smiled as Neil Goodenough stooped and said, "Climb on, son. I'm the old pack-horse, and it looks to me as if we were about to climb a mountain."

With Dick on his back, and bags and bundles under his arms, Neil followed Edna up the steps through a fog of odors to the third floor; and Mary, bringing up the rear, tried to cheer herself by asking facetiously what sort of wild flowers bloomed in these mountains.

"That's cabbage," giggled Dickie. "And this is onions. And this—oh, back! Beefsteak! Giddap, pack-horse!"

But there were no odors in Edna Dale's two high-ceilinged rooms. "The closets are large," she told Mary. "And there's a bath down the hall. Now while you're unpacking your bags I'll run out to the store on the corner for some chops."

"If I went, and bought my own chop," ventured Neil, "would I rate an invitation for dinner?"

"Oh, bully! Ask him, mother!" cried the child. "And I'll take him to the store!" And without waiting for the invitation that might or might not have been forthcoming, he dragged his new idol out of the door.

They were back again shortly, not with chops, but with steaks, and with various intriguing bags and boxes.

"Know anything about art, Mary?" demanded Edna over their coffee.

"Nothing to brag about. Why do you ask?"

"I was wondering if you could run blunt enough to get the job my roommate had to give up yesterday. They probably haven't filled her place yet—she was taken so suddenly. If you know her line well enough to make them think—"

"Lead me to them!" said Mary, with visions of keeping from flying the white flag. "I really have been around to the museums a little. She did not add, as she was thinking, slyly, "all over the world."

"Well, you girls can plan your attack while I tackle the dishes," Neil drawled. "I'm a thoroughly domesticated man."

Mary watched him, in her eyes that tenderness she never ceased to feel for Walt-a-Minute.

After he had finished his task with the same thoroughness and neatness with which he kept his field book, after he had crawled around on his knees being a big black bear in a bedtime frolic with Dick, after he had taken his departure, Edna gasped, "I never knew men like that existed."

"They don't make many like him," Mary assured her.

The following day Mary acquired a position as clerk in an exclusive art shop, the only thing about it which was not exclusive, she found, being the manager. He was obtuse and intrusive, but Mary still had her way of looking at a person as if he weren't there at all, if need be. And she also had the correct way, the manager found, of meeting the wealthy patrons and an almost unbelievably convincing line about the objects of art.

And in the ensuing days Mary Brown quit listening for a telephone which doesn't ring, and looking for a letter which does not come. Finally, she even went so far as to cease to ask Edna for mail which still might have come to the hotel.

No word of a job came from John Stark, so she clung tenaciously to the one she had. Once a week Neil Goodenough took all three of them out to dinner. One night a week he dined with them. But quite often he picked Dickie up after school for an excursion to the park or the dime stores.

Sometimes this genuine affection of a man for a child—especially for her own child—seemed to soften Edna Dale's hard attitude toward the other sex. At first Mary wondered how any experience could have so embittered a person toward life. As time went on, she did not wonder quite so much.

One evening Mary dined with the Starks in their comfortable apartment overlooking the civic center. She regaled the couple with the experiences of a civil engineer selling cloisonne. It was not until she was about to leave that John Stark said, somewhat cryptically, "I wanted you to come tonight especially, Mary, because I have a job for you. One more in your line than an art shop."

"Really? Tell me where?" Mary's dark eyes leaped with excitement. "At a place called Paradise Valley."

"Oh," the light ran out of her eyes. "Oh," imply. Then she added, lifting a face that tried to be gallant, "Pass it on to some one else, Mr. Stark."

"No need," studying her closely. "Denny wants all his old force back. All that I can get hold of, he wrote me. That—includes you, Mary. See here, child! Haven't you been silly long enough? Whatever has happened between you and Denis is surely just a misunderstanding. Go back to your old job, and give things a chance to work out."

But Mary, unable to speak, shook her head with finality. Mrs. Stark threw her arms about the girl's shoulder, searching her face with sympathetic and motherly eyes. "It might need only a word, my dear!"

"Mrs. Stark," Mary managed, "it isn't my move."

"You're a couple of young idiots!" blustered John Stark. "I've a notion to order you to report at Camp C, just as I did the day you had the impertinence to spring your feminine self upon me demanding a job! That's not a bad idea. M. Brown—"

But his wife silenced him. "After all, John, a girl can't throw herself at a man's head!"

But guiltily wishing that John Stark had thrown her at a man's head, Mary made her escape to a taxi. Denny was sending for his old force—and he was not sending for her!

Neil Goodenough was at the apartment when she reached home. "I waited for you, Mary," he said. "I thought surely you'd have one of these," drawing a letter from his pocket; "but Edna says you haven't mentioned it."

He spread it out on the table. Mary bent over it. She didn't dare pick it up—her hands trembled so. She kept them behind her.

Denny's large writing—like Denny, frank and easy but firm. Thoroughbred. The message, like Denny, breezy and optimistic and affectionate:

"We're off again, old scout! Chase yourself back down here. You were a regular guy to wait for me."

But—no summons to her! Denny would start his project again without asking her to come to him.

"You didn't hear, Mary?" Neil was asking.

"No."

"Well, come back with me, anyway. You know there'll be—"

But Mary interrupted him in a way that ended argument. "I'm through with Paradise Valley, Neil. But I'm glad for you. Give it my love!"

"It?" asked Neil, moved eyes searching her.

"It," Mary answered emphatically. And added, quickly, "We're going to miss you—so terribly!"

"I hope so." He was shaking hands with Edna Dale as he spoke. Edna quickly withdrew her hand from his, saying good-by rather brusquely. But Mary impulsively threw her arms about Neil's neck and kissed him good-by. Then she went a little on his coat pocket, while he patted her shoulder with a deal of understanding.

"Where is this Paradise Valley you and Neil are always raving about?" Edna asked.

"I used to think it was in Paradise. Now I know it's just a very earthly place—down the coast a ways in the mountains. Ever hear of it?"

No word of a job came from John Stark, so she clung tenaciously to the one she had. Once a week Neil Goodenough took all three of them out to dinner. One night a week he dined with them. But quite often he picked Dickie up after school for an excursion to the park or the dime stores.

Sometimes this genuine affection of a man for a child—especially for her own child—seemed to soften Edna Dale's hard attitude toward the other sex. At first Mary wondered how any experience could have so embittered a person toward life. As time went on, she did not wonder quite so much.

One evening Mary dined with the Starks in their comfortable apartment overlooking the civic center. She regaled the couple with the experiences of a civil engineer selling cloisonne. It was not until she was about to leave that John Stark said, somewhat cryptically, "I wanted you to come tonight especially, Mary, because I have a job for you. One more in your line than an art shop."

"Really? Tell me where?" Mary's dark eyes leaped with excitement. "At a place called Paradise Valley."

"Oh," the light ran out of her eyes. "Oh," imply. Then she added, lifting a face that tried to be gallant, "Pass it on to some one else, Mr. Stark."

"No need," studying her closely. "Denny wants all his old force back. All that I can get hold of, he wrote me. That—includes you, Mary. See here, child! Haven't you been silly long enough? Whatever has happened between you and Denis is surely just a misunderstanding. Go back to your old job, and give things a chance to work out."

But Mary, unable to speak, shook her head with finality. Mrs. Stark threw her arms about the girl's shoulder, searching her face with sympathetic and motherly eyes. "It might need only a word, my dear!"

"Mrs. Stark," Mary managed, "it isn't my move."

"You're a couple of young idiots!" blustered John Stark. "I've a notion to order you to report at Camp C, just as I did the day you had the impertinence to spring your feminine self upon me demanding a job! That's not a bad idea. M. Brown—"

But his wife silenced him. "After all, John, a girl can't throw herself at a man's head!"

But guiltily wishing that John Stark had thrown her at a man's head, Mary made her escape to a taxi. Denny was sending for his old force—and he was not sending for her!

Neil Goodenough was at the apartment when she reached home. "I waited for you, Mary," he said. "I thought surely you'd have one of these," drawing a letter from his pocket; "but Edna says you haven't mentioned it."

He spread it out on the table. Mary bent over it. She didn't dare pick it up—her hands trembled so. She kept them behind her.

Denny's large writing—like Denny, frank and easy but firm. Thoroughbred. The message, like Denny, breezy and optimistic and affectionate:

"We're off again, old scout! Chase yourself back down here. You were a regular guy to wait for me."

But—no summons to her! Denny would start his project again without asking her to come to him.

"You didn't hear, Mary?" Neil was asking.

"No."

"Well, come back with me, anyway. You know there'll be—"

But Mary interrupted him in a way that ended argument. "I'm through with Paradise Valley, Neil. But I'm glad for you. Give it my love!"

"It?" asked Neil, moved eyes searching her.

"It," Mary answered emphatically. And added, quickly, "We're going to miss you—so terribly!"

"I hope so." He was shaking hands with Edna Dale as he spoke. Edna quickly withdrew her hand from his, saying good-by rather brusquely. But Mary impulsively threw her arms about Neil's neck and kissed him good-by. Then she went a little on his coat pocket, while he patted her shoulder with a deal of understanding.

"Where is this Paradise Valley you and Neil are always raving about?" Edna asked.

"I used to think it was in Paradise. Now I know it's just a very earthly place—down the coast a ways in the mountains. Ever hear of it?"

No word of a job came from John Stark, so she clung tenaciously to the one she had. Once a week Neil Goodenough took all three of them out to dinner. One night a week he dined with them. But quite often he picked Dickie up after school for an excursion to the park or the dime stores.

Sometimes this genuine affection of a man for a child—especially for her own child—seemed to soften Edna Dale's hard attitude toward the other sex. At first Mary wondered how any experience could have so embittered a person toward life. As time went on, she did not wonder quite so much.

One evening Mary dined with the Starks in their comfortable apartment overlooking the civic center. She regaled the couple with the experiences of a civil engineer selling cloisonne. It was not until she was about to leave that John Stark said, somewhat cryptically, "I wanted you to come tonight especially, Mary, because I have a job for you. One more in your line than an art shop."

"Really? Tell me where?" Mary's dark eyes leaped with excitement. "At a place called Paradise Valley."

"Oh," the light ran out of her eyes. "Oh," imply. Then she added, lifting a face that tried to be gallant, "Pass it on to some one else, Mr. Stark."

"No need," studying her closely. "Denny wants all his old force back. All that I can get hold of, he wrote me. That—includes you, Mary. See here, child! Haven't you been silly long enough? Whatever has happened between you and Denis is surely just a misunderstanding. Go back to your old job, and give things a chance to work out."

But Mary, unable to speak, shook her head with finality. Mrs. Stark threw her arms about the girl's shoulder, searching her face with sympathetic and motherly eyes. "It might need only a word, my dear!"

"Mrs. Stark," Mary managed, "it isn't my move."

"You're a couple of young idiots!" blustered John Stark. "I've a notion to order you to report at Camp C, just as I did the day you had the impertinence to spring your feminine self upon me demanding a job! That's not a bad idea. M. Brown—"

But his wife silenced him. "After all, John, a girl can't throw herself at a man's head!"

But guiltily wishing that John Stark had thrown her at a man's head, Mary made her escape to a taxi. Denny was sending for his old force—and he was not sending for her!

Neil Goodenough was at the apartment when she reached home. "I waited for you, Mary," he said. "I thought surely you'd have one of these," drawing a letter from his pocket; "but Edna says you haven't mentioned it."

He spread it out on the table. Mary bent over it. She didn't dare pick it up—her hands trembled so. She kept them behind her.

Denny's large writing—like Denny, frank and easy but firm. Thoroughbred. The message, like Denny, breezy and optimistic and affectionate:

"We're off again, old scout! Chase yourself back down here. You were a regular guy to wait for me."

But—no summons to her! Denny would start his project again without asking her to come to him.

"You didn't hear, Mary?" Neil was asking.

"No."

"Well, come back with me, anyway. You know there'll be—"

But Mary interrupted him in a way that ended argument. "I'm through with Paradise Valley, Neil. But I'm glad for you. Give it my love!"

"It?" asked Neil, moved eyes searching her.

"It," Mary answered emphatically. And added, quickly, "We're going to miss you—so terribly!"

"I hope so." He was shaking hands with Edna Dale as he spoke. Edna quickly withdrew her hand from his, saying good-by rather brusquely. But Mary impulsively threw her arms about Neil's neck and kissed him good-by. Then she went a little on his coat pocket, while he patted her shoulder with a deal of understanding.

"Where is this Paradise Valley you and Neil are always raving about?" Edna asked.

"I used to think it was in Paradise. Now I know it's just a very earthly place—down the coast a ways in the mountains. Ever hear of it?"

No word of a job came from John Stark, so she clung tenaciously to the one she had. Once a week Neil Goodenough took all three of them out to dinner. One night a week he dined with them. But quite often he picked Dickie up after school for an excursion to the park or the dime stores.

Sometimes this genuine affection of a man for a child—especially for her own child—seemed to soften Edna Dale's hard attitude toward the other sex. At first Mary wondered how any experience could have so embittered a person toward life. As time went on, she did not wonder quite so much.

One evening Mary dined with the Starks in their comfortable apartment overlooking the civic center. She regaled the couple with the experiences of a civil engineer selling cloisonne. It was not until she was about to leave that John Stark said, somewhat cryptically, "I wanted you to come tonight especially, Mary, because I have a job for you. One more in your line than an art shop."

"Really? Tell me where?" Mary's dark eyes leaped with excitement. "At a place called Paradise Valley."

"Oh," the light ran out of her eyes. "Oh," imply. Then she added, lifting a face that tried to be gallant, "Pass it on to some one else, Mr. Stark."

"No need," studying her closely. "Denny wants all his old force back. All that I can get hold of, he wrote me. That—includes you, Mary. See here, child! Haven't you been silly long enough? Whatever has happened between you and Denis is surely just a misunderstanding. Go back to your old job, and give things a chance to work out."

But Mary, unable to speak, shook her head with finality. Mrs. Stark threw her arms about the girl's shoulder, searching her face with sympathetic and motherly eyes. "It might need only a word, my dear!"

"Mrs. Stark," Mary managed, "it isn't my move."

"You're a couple of young idiots!" blustered John Stark. "I've a notion to order you to report at Camp C, just as I did the day you had the impertinence to spring your feminine self upon me demanding a job! That's not a bad idea. M. Brown—"

But his wife silenced him. "After all, John, a girl can't throw herself at a man's head!"

But guiltily wishing that John Stark had thrown her at a man's head, Mary made her escape to a taxi. Denny was sending for his old force—and he was not sending for her!

Neil Goodenough was at the apartment when she reached home. "I waited for you, Mary," he said. "I thought surely you'd have one of these," drawing a letter from his pocket; "but Edna says you haven't mentioned it."

He spread it out on the table. Mary bent over it. She didn't dare pick it up—her hands trembled so. She kept them behind her.

Denny's large writing—like Denny, frank and easy but firm. Thoroughbred. The message, like Denny, breezy and optimistic and affectionate:

"We're off again, old scout! Chase yourself back down here. You were a regular guy to wait for me."

But—no summons to her! Denny would start his project again without asking her to come to him.

"You didn't hear, Mary?" Neil was asking.

"No."

"Well, come back with me, anyway. You know there'll be—"

But Mary interrupted him in a way that ended argument. "I'm through with Paradise Valley, Neil. But I'm glad for you. Give it my love!"

"It?" asked Neil, moved eyes searching her.

"It," Mary answered emphatically. And added, quickly, "We're going to miss you—so terribly!"

"I hope so." He was shaking hands with Edna Dale as he spoke. Edna quickly withdrew her hand from his, saying good-by rather brusquely. But Mary impulsively threw her arms about Neil's neck and kissed him good-by. Then she went a little on his coat pocket, while he patted her shoulder with a deal of understanding.

"Where is this Paradise Valley you and Neil are always raving about?" Edna asked.

"I used to think it was in Paradise. Now I know it's just a very earthly place—down the coast a ways in the mountains. Ever hear of it?"

No word of a job came from John Stark, so she clung tenaciously to the one she had. Once a week Neil Goodenough took all three of them out to dinner. One night a week he dined with them. But quite often he picked Dickie up after school for an excursion to the park or the dime stores.

Sometimes this genuine affection of a man for a child—especially for her own child—seemed to soften Edna Dale's hard attitude toward the other sex. At first Mary wondered how any experience could have so embittered a person toward life. As time went on, she did not wonder quite so much.

One evening Mary dined with the Starks in their comfortable apartment overlooking the civic center. She regaled the couple with the experiences of a civil engineer selling cloisonne. It was not until she was about to leave that John Stark said, somewhat cryptically, "I wanted you to come tonight especially, Mary, because I have a job for you. One more in your line than an art shop."

"Really? Tell me where?" Mary's dark eyes leaped with excitement. "At a place called Paradise Valley."

"Oh," the light ran out of her eyes. "Oh," imply. Then she added, lifting a face that tried to be gallant, "Pass it on to some one else, Mr. Stark."

"No need," studying her closely. "Denny wants all his old force back. All that I can get hold of, he wrote me. That—includes you, Mary. See here, child! Haven't you been silly long enough? Whatever has happened between you and Denis is surely just a misunderstanding. Go back to your old job, and give things a chance to work out."

But Mary, unable to speak, shook her head with finality. Mrs. Stark threw her arms about the girl's shoulder, searching her face with sympathetic and motherly eyes. "It might need only a word, my dear!"

"Mrs. Stark," Mary managed, "it isn't my move."

"You're a couple of young idiots!" blustered John Stark. "I've a notion to order you to report at Camp C, just as I did the day you had the impertinence to spring your feminine self upon me demanding a job! That's not a bad idea. M. Brown—"

But his wife silenced him. "After all, John, a girl can't throw herself at a man's head!"

But guiltily wishing that John Stark had thrown her at a man's head, Mary made her escape to a taxi. Denny was sending for his old force—and he was not sending for her!

Neil Goodenough was at the apartment when she reached home. "I waited for you, Mary," he said. "I thought surely you'd have one of these," drawing a letter from his pocket; "but Edna says you haven't mentioned it."

He spread it out on the table. Mary bent over it. She didn't dare pick it up—her hands trembled so. She kept them behind her.

Denny's large writing—like Denny, frank and easy but firm. Thoroughbred. The message, like Denny, breezy and optimistic and affectionate:

"We're off again, old scout! Chase yourself back down here. You were a regular guy to wait for me."

But—no summons to her! Denny would start his project again without asking her to come to him.

"You didn't hear, Mary?" Neil was asking.

"No."

"Well, come back with me, anyway. You know there'll be—"

But Mary interrupted him in a way that ended argument. "I'm through with Paradise Valley, Neil. But I'm glad for you. Give it my love!"

"It?" asked Neil, moved eyes searching her.

"It," Mary answered emphatically. And added, quickly, "We're going to miss you—so terribly!"

"I hope so." He

Classified Advertising

Twenty-five words or less, one week, 25 cents; second week, 15 cents; each additional week, 10 cents.

Each word more than 25, one cent per word the first week, and one-half cent per word each succeeding week.

Any changes of copy after first insertion will be considered a new advertisement and charged accordingly.

For Sale

FOR SALE—Nice White Sewing Machine; good day bed; both in excellent condition. L. C. POORE, at Paul Thurston's.

New and Used Ranges, and Franklin Stoves. New Peterson range burner now installed for $25. All brass and chromium plated. Electric Furnace Burners. Furnaces vacuum cleaned on order. H. ALTON BACON, Bryant Pond, Me.

Miscellaneous

FOUND—In Bethel Village—Small Clock. Owner may have same at Citizen office by proving ownership and paying for adv.

FOUND—Small Pocket Watch and Watch Chain. Owners may have same by proving ownership and paying for advertising. Citizen Office.

Firearms, Ammunition, and Trappers' Supplies. bought, sold, and exchanged by H. I. BEAN, Bethel, Maine. Dealer in Raw Furs, Deer Skins, Hides and Pelts.

BETHEL 20 LOCKE MILLS 3

Bethel defeated Locke Mills Tuesday night to the tune of 20-3 in an eight inning game. Behind the six hit pitching of Quimby and Browne, Bethel, led by Swan and Hood, connected 23 hits for 20 runs. In an ordinary field Locke Mills could not have got more than one or two runs, but down there the woods are pretty near center field so it is easy to lose the ball in the woods. Robinson was the big hitter for Locke Mills, getting two three base hits and a home run while Joe Yetkowsky made four nice catches in the outfield.

BETHEL	ab	r	h	po	a	e
Myers, 2b	5	2	2	2	1	0
Young, ss	6	3	2	1	1	0
Quimby, cf, p	5	4	3	1	1	0
Swan, c	6	4	5	0	0	1
P. Brown, p	3	2	2	0	4	0
B. Browne, 3b	4	1	1	2	1	1
T. Bartlett, lf	5	1	2	0	0	0
Scribner, rf	2	1	0	0	0	0
Anglin, 1b	4	0	2	0	0	0
Hood, cf	3	1	3	0	0	0
Croteau, rf	2	0	0	0	0	0

LOCKE MILLS	ab	r	h	po	a	e
Crover, 2b	4	0	0	1	2	0
Smith, rf	1	0	0	1	0	0
Chase, cf	2	0	0	0	0	1
Chandler, 1b, p	4	0	0	0	1	0
Bennett, 3b	4	1	1	2	1	1
Hedding, cf	4	0	4	1	1	0
Yetkowsky, lf	3	3	1	4	0	0
Hickley, ss	2	2	0	1	2	1
Robinson, c	4	3	4	7	1	1
Bean, p	1	0	0	0	0	0
Hiker, p, 1b	3	0	0	2	1	0

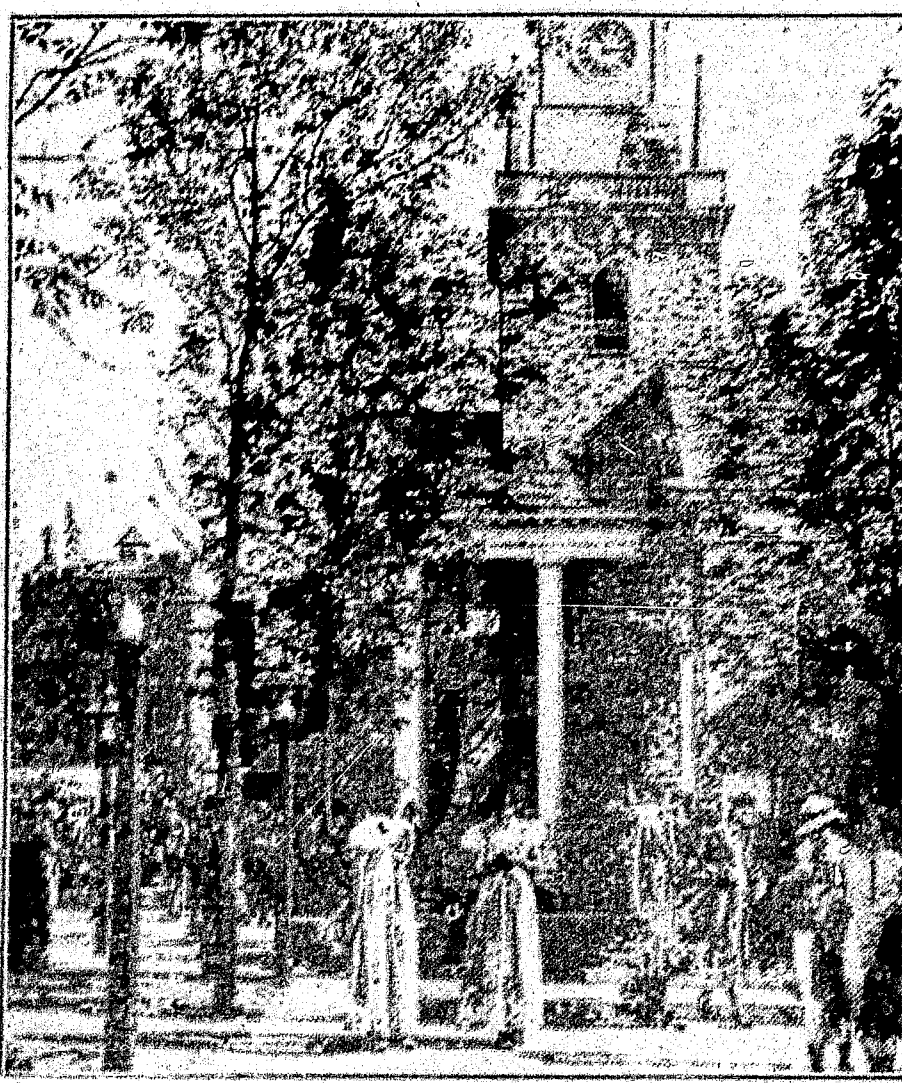

Two base hits—Quimby, P. Browne, Hood, Bennett. 3 base hits—Quimby, Bartlett, Hood, Robinson. 3 home runs—Robinson, Bartlett, Quimby. B. Browne, Anglin, Chase. Hits off Browne 1 to 3, Quimby 5 to 6, Hood 5 to 6, Hiker 5 to 6, Chandler 11 to 4, Bean on balls, off Hiker, Browne, Quimby, Beiko out—Browne 3 Quimby 6, Bean 3 Hiker 2, Chandler 3, left on bases—Bartlett 2, Chase Mills 3, hit by pitcher—Joe Yetkowsky, by Browne.

$45

THE OXFORD COUNTY CITIZEN
Bethel, Maine

Scenes of 1776 at New Fair

Colonial maidens, walking in the shadow of Old North Church, are one of the many quaint pictures that await the visitor to the Colonial village of the new World's Fair in Chicago.

Kit Carson Born in Ohio

Despite the fact that biographers of Kit Carson say he was born in Madison county, Kentucky, in 1823, this famous hunter and trapper, who clung to the frontier as it moved westward, was born in a cabin in Clinton county, Ohio. He was taken to Kentucky when one year old.

Hawaii's Population

Discovering Hawaii in 1778, Captain Cook took a long guess and placed the population at 400,000. In 1823 American missionaries estimated there were 142,000 inhabitants. The first census in 1832 showed the population to be 130,313. By 1878 the number of natives had dwindled to 40,000. In 1910, the total was 26,041 and by 1925 it had dropped to just above the 20,000 mark. Against the day when pure native blood will no longer run in the islands, Hawaii is preserving a living record of its ancient culture and customs. A Lani village has been built in the heart of the Waikiki district where from time to time native Hawaiians go through the ceremonies of their ancestors.

Married

In Bethel, June 5, by Rev. P. J. Clifford, Clayton A. Mills of Albany and Miss Bertha M. Mundt of Bethel.

Died

In Poland, June 2, Rev. Leland A. Edwards of Bethel, aged 69 years.
In Haverhill, Mass., June 3, Amos L. Bean, native of Albany, aged 66 years.
In Snowville, N. H., June 4, Mrs. Inez Cummings Bean, native of Albany, aged 76 years.
In Norway, June 6, Mrs. Flora A. widow of Alva Mansur, aged 76 years.

TO GET Your Start
YOU MUST SAVE

Almost every case of success has had its beginning through savings.

Ask any successful man how he got ahead, and his answer will be "by systematically accumulating a bank account."

Bethel
Savings Bank
BETHEL, MAINE

$ $ $ $ $ $ $

CHURCH ACTIVITIES

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

9:30 Church School. Miss Ida Packard, Superintendent.
It is very important that every pupil be present for we shall devote the hour to rehearsing music for Children's Day program which will be given at a date to be announced later.
11:00 Morning Worship. Speaker, Rev. Frederick Smith of the Christian Civic League of Maine.

METHODIST CHURCH

P. J. Clifford, Pastor
9:45 Sunday School. Supt. Mrs. Myrtle Lapham.
11:00 Baptism of children and Children's Day sermon by the pastor, "The Little Foxes."
6:30 Epworth League.
7:30 Evening Service. Subject, "My Favorite Sermon."
7:20 Tuesday evening, prayer service.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday School at 10 o'clock.
Services Sunday morning at 10:45.
"God The Only Cause and Creator" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, June 10. Among the citations from the Bible is the following: "Happy is he that hath the God of Jacob for his help, whose hope is in the Lord, the God, which made heaven, and earth, the sea, and all that therein is: which keepeth truth for ever." (Ps. 146: 5, 6).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, one of which reads: "Good is not, cannot be, the author of experimental sins. God, good, can no more produce sickness than goodness can cause evil and health occasion disease." (p. 230).

Wednesday testimonial meeting at 7:30 p. m.
Reception to new minister.
A reception was tendered to Rev. and Mrs. P. J. Clifford at the Methodist Church last Thursday evening. Following the greetings of the pastor and wife a short program was presented as follows: Piano solo, Mrs. Robert York; Addresses of Welcome—Congregational Church, Rev. L. A. Edwards; Schools and Citizens, Supt. E. R. Bowdoin; Epworth League, Walter Grover; Vocal duet, Mrs. Robert York and Miss Eugenia Haselton; Sunday School, Mrs. Leslie Lapham; Church, H. I. Bean; Accordion solo, encore, Miss Phyllis Davis; Response to Welcome, Rev. P. J. Clifford.
Refreshments were served by the president of the Ladies' Aid and helpers.

Memorial Day visitors and ers at R. L. Martin's were Mrs. Charles Felt, Jessie Felt, Mrs. Charles Brazier, Mrs. L. S. Sykes and son Floyd of Norway, Ernest Martin of Norway, Mrs. and Mr. Wallace West Paris, Mr. and Mrs. Green and son Basil of Pond.
Mr. and Mrs. Milton Jacobson of Berlin were at Wagner Sunday.
Mrs. Ella S. Heald of Farnham called on Mrs. Elmer Sunday.

Refreshments were served by the president of the Ladies' Aid and helpers.

Refreshments were served by the president of the Ladies' Aid and helpers.

Refreshments were served by the president of the Ladies' Aid and helpers.

Refreshments were served by the president of the Ladies' Aid and helpers.

Refreshments were served by the president of the Ladies' Aid and helpers.

Refreshments were served by the president of the Ladies' Aid and helpers.

Refreshments were served by the president of the Ladies' Aid and helpers.

GROVER HILL

Out of town guests at Mundt's to attend the wedding were Miss Alice Mundt of New York, Mrs. Sarah Kendal, daughter, Mrs. Sunder Jones, Cambridge, Mass., and Mundt and family from Westport, Me. Mrs. James Gooden, daughter Lois of Portland, Me., were week end guests at Whitman's.

Mr. and Mrs. Evander Whitman entertained Mr. and Mrs. Hardie from Brockton, Mass. and Mrs. John Trefethen, W.erson and Miss Geraldine from Portsmouth, N. H., for days last week.
Mr. and Mrs. Herbert T. son Robert from Mechanicville were callers in this neighborhood lately.

Rev. Clifford Laws from was at E. B. Whitman's home and Crawford Notch, with Ida Packard and Electa from Bethel were evening on Grover Hill Thursday.
Mrs. Fred Wheeler accompanied her son Early, who had been for the week end, to Bethel last week.

The entire neighborhood deeply shocked and saddened the death of Rev. L. A. Edwards.

GREENWOOD CEN

Mrs. Laura Seames visited week end with Miss Sylvia at North Paris.
Lovell Churchill, Mr. L. and Mr. Edwards of Mechanicville spent Saturday at Twilight with Miss Cecile Roberts visiting week with her sister, Mrs. Farr, at West Poland.

An entertainment was given the pupils of the Greenwood school at the school house day evening.
Memorial Day visitors and ers at R. L. Martin's were Mrs. Charles Felt, Jessie Felt, Mrs. Charles Brazier, Mrs. L. S. Sykes and son Floyd of Norway, Ernest Martin of Norway, Mrs. and Mr. Wallace West Paris, Mr. and Mrs. Green and son Basil of Pond.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Jacobson of Berlin were at Wagner Sunday.
Mrs. Ella S. Heald of Farnham called on Mrs. Elmer Sunday.

Refreshments were served by the president of the Ladies' Aid and helpers.

Refreshments were served by the president of the Ladies' Aid and helpers.

Refreshments were served by the president of the Ladies' Aid and helpers.

Refreshments were served by the president of the Ladies' Aid and helpers.

Refreshments were served by the president of the Ladies' Aid and helpers.

Refreshments were served by the president of the Ladies' Aid and helpers.

Refreshments were served by the president of the Ladies' Aid and helpers.

Used Cars

1933 Standard Tudor Ford	48
1933 DeLuxe Tudor Ford	48
1932 Standard Tudor Ford	32
1931 Ford Fordor Sedan	22
1931 Ford Coupe Rumble Seat	22
1931 Standard Coupe Ford	22
1930 Coupe Rumble Seat Ford	17
1930 Ford Roadster	17
1933 Chevrolet Coupe	47
1930 Plymouth Coupe	26
1931 Ford Pick-up	29
1929 Chevrolet Pick-up	12
1930 Chevrolet Pick-up	22
1932 Ford Panel	30
1930 Harley-Davidson Motorcycle including side car	15

And a large assortment of used trucks

Ripley & Fletcher Co

SOUTH PARIS, MAINE